Accepted

Springfield, Ill. Jan. 21.—(John C. Martin's examination as chairman of the state tax commission tonight) was on the desk of Governor Horner, who deferred action on it and the proposal for a third special session on the permanent reapportionment of voters. Aspin had with a cold Mr Horner said he had telegraphed to Meritt, who is running for state treasurer on the Kelly-Neal Democratic organization slate.

By the governor's appointment, the Salem banker also is chairman of the Illinois emergency relief commission. Mr. Horner said, "I have resigned voluntarily from both jobs at a Chicago conference Saturday because the presence

Santa Monica, Calif., Jan. 21.—(AP)—A major mystery of California aviation, the disappearance July 19, 1933, of Lieut. Arthur H. Sauer, Jr., apparently was solved today.

A sea-harried boat, clad in white canvas, was seen to leave the shore of the island at about 10:30 a. m. and to stand by the dark-water lagoon, or against the breakwater. Here, was identified by two persons as that of the Army Reserve Boat.

Donald S. Sauer, brother of the missing aviator, examined a photograph of the boat, and identified it as the boat of the U. S. Navy, and he said it was identical with one that had belonged to his brother-in-law, Warren A. Williams, who was, at the time of the disappearance, a U. S. Navy aviator.

Sauer shortly before he took off, on his flight, said the trainers found on the boat, were the same kind of pilot work.

Lt. Sauer disappeared while making the first test flight of a new model pursuit designed for U. S. Army use.

TEN PAGES—THREE CENTS

MUST RETURN MILLIONS TO PROCESSORS

$8,708,000 Will Be Returned To Swift & Company

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(P)—Chicago packers and other processors who were subject to invalidated provisions of the AAA recovered almost $13,000,000 in impounded cash and bonds in the federal courts today.

Three judges acted to return part of the millions placed in escrow to cover processing taxes falling due during litigation brought to test taxing provisions of the agricultural adjustment act.

Judge Charles E. Woodward signed orders returning $8,708,399 to Swift & Co., $205,372 to Armour & Co., of New Jersey, and $241 to Fred Groyn & Co.

Almost $3,000,000 more was released by Judge William H. Holly.

He signed orders returning $298,393 to C. A. Burnett & Co., $307,107 to the Agar Packing & Provision Corporation, $528,959 to Wilson & Co., of Kansas, $2,500 to Stephen Babich & Co., $418,324 to Roberts & Oake, $283,283 to Armour & Co., of Maine, and $1,071,241 to T. H. Sinclair & Co., a Wilson subsidiary.

Although at first refusing to sign any release orders until he received a copy of the supreme court's mandate, Judge James H. Wilkinson was found to have signed two orders today, releasing $906,202 to Wilson & Co., of California, and $244,833 to Wilson & Co.

Judge John P. Barnes last week stated the ebb of cash and bonds with orders returning a total of approximately $7,500,000. Judge Philip L. Sullivan took no action on impounded taxes awaiting his disposal.

The case involving the return of $8,708,399 to the Washburn-Crosby Flour Co. was continued until Jan. 24 by Judge Sullivan. In this case Lincoln Bakers, Inc., of Evansville, Ind., has petitioned to intervene in an attempt to establish a claim for part of the taxes.

Hotujecs, Vidies Getting Married

Joliet, Ill., Jan. 21.—(P)—The Hotujecs and the Vidies, it appeared today, will soon be one happy family.

It is the way.

Louis Vidie, a widower, has two daughters, Louise and Angelina. Mrs. Theresa Hotujec, a widow, has two sons, John and August.

Two years ago John Hotujec married Louise Vidie. That was the first step. A year later August and Angelina followed their path to the altar.

You've guessed it. Louis and Theresa will be next. Their marriage is set for Thursday morning at St. Joseph's church.

RICHARD BENNETT ILL.

New York, Jan. 21.—(P)—The three daughters of Richard Bennett, veteran actor, were in his sick room today at Harbor sanitarium after two of them, Joan and Constance, flew across the continent to be at his side.

Hospital officials announced that Bennett "had a restful night and his condition is unchanged." The nature of his illness has not been disclosed, but Joan and Constance were informed in Hollywood before they left that he was threatened with pneumonia.

Joan and Constance were met at the Newark airport by their sister, Barbara.

Young Edward of Windsor Pledges He Will "Follow My Father's Footsteps"

By Harold P. Braman, Associated Press Foreign Staff.

London, Jan. 21.—(P)—Young Edward of Windsor, forging his own tradition, flew from a king's deathbed today to become Britain's bachelor monarch and to pledge he will "follow my father's footsteps" for the good of 500,000,000 subjects.

Behind in wind-swept Sandringham he left the queen mother Mary, who tonight knelt in the candlelight of a parish chapel before the simple bier of her liege, George V.

In London, amid historic ceremony, the new ruler swore the solemn oath of accession to become Edward VIII, king of Great Britain, Ireland, all the dominions beyond the seas, defender of the faith and emperor of India.

Then he received the pledge of fealty from his Parliament.

Before the privy council of the realm, recalling King George's unswerving devotion to constitutional government, he proclaimed:

"In this I am determined to follow my father's footsteps and work as he did throughout his life for the happiness and welfare of all classes of my subjects."

While the world mourned him, the body of King George V., beloved 70-year-old ruler who died at 11:55 p. m. last night, lay tonight before a silver altar in the parish church at Sandringham, which stands on a wind-swept ridge.

Through the sleet and rain, the simple oak coffin containing the monarch's body was carried on a hand bier by a detachment of grenadier guards to the church.

The body will be taken to London Thursday to lie in state in Westminster Hall until next Tuesday, when it will be removed to Windsor Castle for the funeral in St. George's chapel. Burial will be at Windsor.

Edward's dramatic flight from Sandringham to London to begin his reign at one stroke indicated that as king he would rule in his own particular manner, one which marked his colorful career as Prince of Wales. He became today the first British sovereign to fly.

Medieval customs marked two afternoon ceremonies following the king's modern entry into the city by airplane.

He took the oath of accession at an assembly of the privy council at St. James's Palace and a short time later Parliament swore allegiance to the new king.

Age-old pageantry will formally proclaim him king at 10 a. m. tomorrow from four places in the empire's capital—St. James's Palace, Charing Cross, Temple Bar and the Royal Exchange guns will boom in salute to the sovereign.

Proclamations also will be made tomorrow in the dominions of India and Northern Ireland, the colonies of the Isle of Man, Jersey and in various counties and municipal boroughs throughout the United Kingdom.

The bachelor status of Edward was sharply emphasized during the traditional loyalty ceremony in the House of Lords.

The solitary throne, with its royal red covering, stood on a dais. For nearly a quarter of a century there were thrones for King George and Queen Mary and also a chair for the Prince of Wales alongside his father.

There is no longer any Prince of Wales and this chair, as well as Queen Mary's throne, was removed. The swearing of allegiance by members of Parliament will take several days.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(P)—A new sanity trial for John W. Keogh, eccentric court room sayer of Attorney Christopher Kinney, was ordered today by Chief Justice Denis J. Normoyle of the criminal court.

Keogh, adjudged sane by a jury at a sanity hearing last week, advanced threateningly toward Judge Normoyle's bench when the jurist ruled in favor of a new hearing. He had to be forcibly restrained by bailiffs.

The jury which heard evidence at the original sanity hearing returned a verdict of sanity despite contrary testimony by alienists.

Judge Normoyle set the new hearing for Feb. 3 before Judge Joseph Burke.

U. S. Prisoners At Aleatraz Island Refuse To Work

About 100 Men Are Locked In Cells And Solitary Confinement

San Francisco, Jan. 21.—(P)—Prisoners at Alcatraz Island, the government prison in San Francisco Bay, refused to work today and Warden James A. Johnston promptly had about 100 men locked in their cells and in solitary confinement.

"Agitators" were blamed by Warden Johnston, who said there "was nothing serious and nobody was hurt."

The warden declined to disclose names of the prisoners involved. Among those at the island, considered escapee proof, are Al Capone, former Chicago gang leader; "Machine Gun" Kelly, kidnaper, and Harmon Waley, kidnaper of young George Weyerhaeuser.

"Some of the prisoners refused to work, mainly in the laundry," Warden Johnston said. "We blame agitators for their refusal."

"They like more privileges, of course, rather than the way we run the prison."

There was nothing serious and nobody was hurt. About 100 of the 250 men were locked in the regular cells and some were placed in solitary confinement.

The disturbance was the first reported at the impregnable island prison, although rumors of minor troublesome incidents have been heard. Every precaution is taken to prevent escapes.

MUST PAY DAMAGES
Paris, Jan. 21.—(P)—A court ruled today that seven of the nine men convicted for "L'Affaire Stavinsky," the great French pawnshop swindle, must pay collectively 36,000,000 francs in damages and a 193,000 franc indemnity (a total of about $2,388,870).

These sums were demanded by individuals and firms who lost in the collapse of Serge Stavinsky's bogus financial structure.

All nine men must pay the expense of the trial, about 1,000,000 francs ($66,000).

SMASH WINDOW?
London, Jan. 22.—(Wednesday)—A large crowd, angered by published remarks about King George V., gathered outside the publisher's offices of a communist newspaper early today, smashed the windows and damaged two automobiles.

Police restored order. Students and Fascists were among the demonstrators.

WILL SERVE TIME
Belleville, Ill., Jan. 21.—(P)—Unable to pay a $250 fine for beating his estranged wife with a poker, Henry W. Schwartz, 63, former Dupo, Ill., postmaster, today began to serve out the penalty in the county jail. It will take 60 days.

FDR BELIEVES SUPREME COURT CHANGED STAND

Wallace Challenges Justice Of Its Decision

Washington, Jan. 21.—(P)—President Roosevelt plainly intimated today he believed the supreme court had reversed a wide-spread stand upholding the right of congress to limit the functions of courts.

His comment coincided with remarks of two cabinet members expressing sharp concern over the court's processing tax decision in the Louisiana rice millers case which upset the taxation rule of "pay first and litigate later."

Almost simultaneously, a white house "go-ahead" signal was given congressional advisors for introduction of new farm-aid legislation to replace the invalidated AAA for a two-year period.

Bills amending the soil conservation act, and possibly appropriating $500,000,000, it was announced, will be submitted to both senate and house immediately to enable continuance of crop adjustment and payment of federal subsidies to farmers.

Mr. Roosevelt's comment on the supreme court's refusal yesterday to reconsider its ruling returning $200,000,000 in impounded processing taxes was made at a press conference.

Earlier, Secretary Wallace had bluntly challenged the "justice" of the decision, in a radio address, and had asserted emphatically that "act is not dead."

Attorney General Cummings also told newsmen it was "very likely" that the high tribunal's action would result in a flood of new injunction suits impounding taxes levied under other New Deal laws.

In sharp contrast with his hour-long "horse and buggy" discourse on the supreme court following NRA's invalidation, Mr. Roosevelt spoke briefly today.

Reporters asked for comment on the processing tax ruling. The executive said he wondered about its effect on the McCordie and George vs. Bailey decision of the high tribunal. Asked what these cases were, Mr. Roosevelt said the newsmen would have to look them up.

A quick search of files showed that the decision in "ex parte McCordie" case was an event of the reconstruction period following the Civil War.

Place Purported Confession Before Scottsboro Jury

Penitentiary Guard Says Negro Made It Orally To Him

Decatur, Ala., Jan. 21.—(P)—A purported confession by Heywood Patterson, one of the nine negro defendants in the Scottsboro case, was related today to a jury of 12 white men selected for the first of the retrials ordered by United States Supreme Court.

Onie Golden, guard at the state penitentiary, testified the confession was made orally by Patterson, whose previous conviction was reversed by the United States Supreme Court on grounds negroes were "systematically" excluded from Alabama juries.

Although one negro sat on the grand jury which returned new indictments in the case, none of the 12 drawn in the panel of 100 for the Patterson trial remained when the jury was finally selected.

Seven were excused "for cause" and the remaining five were struck by the defense or state. Strikes are made by number, making it impossible to determine which side eliminated the negroes.

Golden said Patterson, thrice convicted and sentenced to die, told him he attacked "them girls" and that his eight co-defendants likewise are guilty.

They are accused of attacking Mrs. Victoria Price and Ruby Bates, mill workers, aboard a freight train near Scottsboro, Ala., in 1931.

Preceding Golden, Mrs. Price testified for the eighth time regarding the alleged mass attack. She identified Patterson as one of her attackers.

WITHOUT FUNDS
Chicago, Jan. 21.—(P)—Miss Alice "Babe" Reese, 28, of Ottawa, Ill., an entertainer, found wandering the streets without funds by police last Friday was turned over today to the social service department as Judge George B. Weiss in the women's court dismissed a charge of disorderly conduct against her.

Fare to the home of her sister, Mrs. Ward Wright in Bloomington, Ill., was promised by social service workers. Mrs. Wright had previously telegraphed that her sister was welcome but that she was without funds to pay her transportation.

ISSUES PROCLAMATION
Addis Ababa, Jan. 21.—(P)—Emperor Haile Selassie issued a proclamation today calling upon "all Ethiopians capable of bearing arms to be ready at the moment their leader needs them."

The decree, issued by the emperor at Dessie, was read out at the palace, here. It was on the occasion of the Ethiopian St. Michael's day.

CONFER ON BUILDING
Washington, Jan. 21.—(P)—Thomas J. Cody, postmaster, conferred with treasury officials today relative to the specifications for the new post office building to be erected at Peoria, Ill.

CONGRESS GETS BIG SECURITY APPROPRIATION

Has $42,664,500 Social Item

Washington, Jan. 21.—(P)—A bill carrying delayed funds for the administration social security program today started rolling through the congressional mill.

A $52,204,100 deficiency bill recommended to the House today by its appropriation committee, contained a $42,664,500 item for social security. The appropriation failed of passage last session in the closing-hour filibuster of the late Senator Long of Louisiana.

The social security money—$40,985,000 of it for matching grants to states—comprised approximately two-thirds of the second supply bill of the session.

House leaders proposed to pass the measure this week, after disposing of the bonus question tomorrow. The Senate intends to pass it, likewise, ahead of the independent offices appropriation bill, already sent by the House.

The $58,204,100 supply bill figure was reduced from the $103,272,705 in the original measure of last session because only approximately half the time now is left to be financed before the new fiscal year beginning July 1.

The social security and some other new activities have been conducted for months on a skeletonized basis.

Saying the security appropriations were expected to be available around February 1, the committee told the House that provisions were made in the bill for payments to states for the third and fourth quarters of the 1936 fiscal year on state security plans approved before or during the February 1-June 30 period. Provisions were not made for plans approved before the quarter in which they were submitted or before February 1, 1936.

This, the committee said, will allow states with plans submitted before February 1, to be paid commencing on that date if the plans were in operation at that time.

Governor Hoffman May Ask "Jafsie" Be Questioned

Says Dr. Condon Should Have Been Quizzed "Before This"

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 21.—(P)—Governor Harold G. Hoffman said today he still "may request" authorities to question Dr. John F. Jafsie, Condon, Lindbergh ransom intermediary, when he returns from his voyage to Latin America.

In a list of questions submitted to the governor tonight was one asking whether he intended to question Dr. Condon about reported discrepancies in his testimony at the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann and his "fell all" articles in a weekly magazine.

The governor replied he felt Dr. Condon should have been questioned "long before this" and said, "I may request his questioning by authorities when he returns."

The governor, who five days ago granted Hauptmann a 30-day reprieve, was reported reliably to be interested in what happened to all of the $50,000 ransom money and to feel that failure to find all of it was one of the unsolved angles of the case.

Reports have circulated recently that the governor intended to grant Hauptmann more than one reprieve, but he said today that at present he did not propose to do so.

State Rests In "Poison" Trial

Mineola, N. Y., Jan. 21.—(P)—The State rested today in the trial of Mrs. Mary Francis Creighton and Everett C. Applegate, charged jointly with the poison murder of applegate's 260-pound wife.

Counsel for the two defendants, who have studiously ignored each other in the courtroom, moved unsuccessfully for a dismissal of the indictment against the woman and for a directed verdict of acquittal for the man.

A 40-page statement allegedly penned by Mrs. Creighton after her arrest was read to the jury today. In it she purportedly assumed equal responsibility with Applegate for the death of the latter's wife.

The statement, which she has repudiated, outlined a plot to dispose of Applegate's wife so he would be free to marry Mrs. Creighton's 16-year-old daughter, Ruth.

HORNER SIGNS BILL
Springfield, Ill., Jan. 21.—(P)—Governor Henry Horner today signed a bill providing for the licensing of insurance agents, brokers, solicitors and company representatives.

The bill was sponsored by Senator Tom Keane, Chicago. It repealed an old statute, parts of which were held invalid by the Sangamon circuit court last July.

The new law, aimed to strengthen state regulation, does not restrict power of cities and villages to regulate tax or license insurance brokers.

ASTAIRE HAS SON
Hollywood, Calif., Jan. 21.—(P)—Fred Astaire, nimble-footed dancer, had something to kick his heels over today. A son was born to his wife, the former Phyllis Livingstone Potter, New York society figure. The boy weighed 6 1/2 pounds. Dr. John Vrinick said mother and child were progressing satisfactorily.

Verbal Resignations Have Not Been Accepted

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 21.—(P)—John C. Martin's resignation as chairman of the state tax commission tonight was on the desk of Governor Horner, who deferred action on it and the proposal for a third special session on the permanent registration of voters.

Again in bed with a cold, Mr. Horner said he had telegraphed to Martin, who is running for state treasurer on the Kelly-Nash Democratic organization slate.

By the governor's appointment, the Salem banker also is chairman of the Illinois emergency relief commission. Mr. Horner said Martin resigned verbally from both jobs at a Chicago conference Saturday because his presence in the administration might embarrass the governor.

"I assured him his resignation was not necessary," the governor said, "but upon my return last night from Chicago, I found a letter, dated Jan. 19, the day after I saw him, which contained his resignation from the post of tax commission chairman."

"I have wired Martin and asked him whether it was his intention to submit both resignations to me in accordance with his conversation with me on Jan. 18, or whether he is seeking to quit his tax position and retain his chairmanship of the Illinois emergency relief commission."

He asked Martin, on his way to California on personal business, to telegraph his reply.

Martin was appointed chairman of the tax commission in January, 1935, after his first term as state treasurer expired. Last May he succeeded Robert J. Dunham of Chicago as chairman of the relief commission. Both appointments were made by Mr. Horner.

The governor said his decision on a third special session had been delayed because of his illness, but that if he issued a call it would include a request for legislation to place appointment of Chicago park board commissioners under him, instead of Mayor Kelly.

Major Mystery Of Pacific Aviation Has Been Solved

Body Of Airplane Test Pilot Washed Ashore Against Breakwater

Santa Monica, Calif., Jan. 21.—(P)—A major mystery of California aviation, the disappearance July 30, 1935, of Lieut. Arthur H. Skaer Jr., airplane test pilot, in a $200,000 airship, apparently was solved today.

A sea-battered body, clad in whiplash cord trousers and a leather belt, washed against the breakwater here, was identified by two persons as that of the army reserve flier.

Donald S. Skaer, brother of the long-missing flier, examined a silver belt buckle of odd design, found on the body. It bore the initial "A" and he said it was identical with one that had belonged to his brother, Warren A. Williams, who was with Skaer shortly before he took off on his last flight, said the trousers found on the body were the same kind the pilot wore.

Lieut. Skaer disappeared while making the first test flight of a new model pursuit designed for U. S. Army use.

Searchers sought Skaer's body on land and sea for more than a month. U. S. coast patrol and private craft looked for his body in the ocean. Horsemen scoured widely separated hill country in southern California. Airplane observers scanned the ocean and flew far inland.

At one stage of the search Ruth Chatterton, film actress and aviatrix, in her private plane piloted members of the fliers family over hills near Alhambra, 30 miles inland. Skaer's wife, Miss Dorothy Skaer, said a Long Beach, Calif., spiritualist medium had told her the flier's body would be found in the hills.

Door Key New Clue In Peacock Murder

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(P)—A door key stamped with the digits "428" provided a new clue today in the slaying of Dr. Silber C. Peacock, well known pediatrician, who left his apartment Jan. 21 in answer to a telephone call and was found shot to death in his sedan the next night.

Chief Deputy Coroner Victor Schlager revealed the key was found in Dr. Peacock's clothing, together with a memorandum book containing several names which will be checked.

Schlager said a locksmith informed him the key was apparently a duplicate for an hotel room door, and efforts were started to trace it.

An inquest into the pediatrician's death was resumed briefly today, but was again continued because of the absence of the widow, Mrs. Ruth Peacock. She has been at the home of her parents in Bowen, Ill., where the physician's body was buried.

$340,000,000 is Spent by Federal Government in Last 6 Months For Sports

By Dillon L. Graham, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Washington, Jan. 21.—(P)—Sport project allotments have sliced into the government's four billion dollar work relief fund for more than $340,000,000 in the last six months.

On the theory that outdoor life builds better bodies, that construction gives employment and that millions of citizens will be benefitted, the government has spent, or agreed to spend on sport projects, since July 1, a total of $340,059,174.

The Works Progress Administration said today President Roosevelt had approved outlays for athletic fields, parks, stadiums, swimming pools, golf courses, armories, tennis courts and game, fish and bird work.

The allotments devote to sportsmen and youngsters approximately nine per cent of the huge total appropriated by Congress last session.

Some of the projects already are finished, construction is under way on others, while work has not yet begun on many. The program calls for 8,376 separate projects.

Of the entire allotment, $8,607,730 comes under sport indirectly through expenditures on game, fish and birds, although all such monies eventually will aid the road and gun sportsman.

By far the bulk of the money—$26,463,429—has been allotted to parks, which include baseball and football fields, etc., and various equipment for other sports and for the entertainment of boys and girls on playgrounds.

The building of swimming pools throughout the country and the improvement of bathing beaches calls for $11,114,690.

For athletic fields 6,916,485 has been put aside, while another $6,956,840 was allotted to miscellaneous projects under the sports classification.

WALTER HOLLAND TO BE PLACED ON TRIAL

Muskogee, Okla., Jan. 21.—(P)—Walter Holland, alias Leo Irish O'Malley, alleged leader of the Irish O'Malley gang, will be tried in federal court here on charges of robbing two national banks at Okemah, Oklahoma, it was announced tonight.

Holland now is serving a life sentence in the Illinois state prison for participation in the kidnaping of August Luer, aged Alton, Ill., packer, who was kidnaped in 1933.

He will be brought here for arraignment January 31, by virtue of a removal order issued today by Federal Judge Robert L. Williams.

Still Have Faith In Sir Francis Drake Fortune

Additional Defense Witnesses Placed On Stand In Federal Court

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(P)—Additional defense witnesses were called in federal court today to testify to their unshaken faith in the existence of the fabulous fortune of Sir Francis Drake.

Among them was Arthur Rinderknecht of Storm Lake, Ia., who said he put $300 into the deal, and that his faith entirely with the proposition as outlined by Oscar M. Hartzell, alleged leader of the 19 defendants with whom he is still on trial.

Judge Philip L. Sullivan today ordered three 100 pound English bank notes returned to Mrs. Pearl Palmer of Galva, Ill., a sister of Hartzell. She was acquitted with 20 other defendants last week. The notes were seized by the government last spring, but were proved to be Mrs. Palmer's personal funds.

In the cross examination of Henry L. Anderson of (2422 Broadway) Rockford, Ill., another defendant, considerable stress was laid upon a statement made in a letter Anderson wrote to Otto Yant, alleged head of the Chicago Drake headquarters.

The letter was said to have closed with the sentence: "New prospects are about the only hope." It was denied by Anderson as meaning that if more money was needed to perfect the claim to the estate it would have to come from new donors in the Rockford district.

Anderson testified he invested $152 in the deal, and that his mother and brothers had about $500 invested. He denied he made a profit in the transactions, or that he had any intent to defraud.

Ask $208,871 For Conservation Work

Washington, Jan. 21.—(P)—The deficiency appropriation bill introduced in the house today contained an item of $208,871 asked by the soil conservation service for use on Illinois projects between now and July 1.

For the Sangamon river project, which covers 133,000 acres, $43,880 was sought.

Recommended for the Edwardsville project, covering 25,900 acres, is $24,821.

The King is Dead

"King George is dead. Long live King Edward." Scarcely twelve hours after the death of George V, ruler of half a billion of the world's population, his son the Prince of Wales, took the throne as King Edward VIII. The man who has been before the world for a quarter-century as Britain's star salesman of good will, is now on the throne of the British empire.

With the passing of King George, much of the ancient dignity and majesty surrounding British royalty also passes away. The dead monarch in life was the embodiment of dignity, though he was not high-hat. He took the throne in 1910 upon the death of his father, Edward VII, though he had been preparing for his kingship since the early 1800's. King George was a man of the old school, quiet, retiring, taking little part in British politics aside from what was required of him in his royal office.

His son is a modern statesman, versed in the complicated workings of modern public affairs, one who believes in using modern means to achieve the ends of state. Witness his flight to London to take his oath of allegiance. He is the first British monarch to travel by air. He has at times stated very decided opinions on matters of government, and he may take some interest in politics. He is young and vigorous, just in the prime of life. He is already well known and popular.

The swiftness with which Edward assumed the reigns of government marks him as a man of action. Britain will feel his influence, and he will be more than a rubber stamp. Likely as not, he will be king in all that the name implies, yet "according to law" as stated in his oath of allegiance.

More Taxes Ahead

In the opinion of those at Washington in a position to observe the inner workings of government, when it comes to taxes, "we ain't seen nothin' yet." In a recent report to the Senate Mr. Morgenthau let it be known that he would have to do $5,000,000,000 worth of new financing in the next 17 months, drawing upon the banks for more of the cash which is lying idle because business is afraid of the very thing the government is doing—spending and setting the state for new taxes.

Those who scan the legislative agenda feel that Morgenthau has made his estimate low, and that the new money required will be more than five billions. They predict a debt of 36 billions before this administration passes into history. No new taxes will be levied until after the election, but then the fun will begin.

The orgy of spending which was inaugurated by the New Deal shows no sign of letting up. A balanced budget is no longer considered possible, and the nation whirled swiftly along the path of least resistance. The only logical way out is by an increase in taxes.

But for a time the people will be led to think only of the benefits they are receiving from government, so that they will vote for a continuance of those benefits. Once their votes have been secured, the increase in taxes will begin in earnest.

The burden will of course fall on the wage-earner, cutting his buying power and reacting on business, which is already struggling under increased tax burdens. More taxes tend to drag down productive activity and check creation of new wealth.

Astrology Steps In

France has a famous astrologer who has apparently been advising men in high places. He is a close friend of Premier Laval, and rumor has it that the French leader usually consults the astrologer as to what is new in the arrangement of the stars that may be of interest to him.

The astrologer has set Jan. 27 as the date on which Mussolini will begin his downward swing to oblivion in European politics. He also says that if Laval does not return from Geneva with either a substantial British loan or a definite settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict, he might as well say goodbye to his job as premier.

It is fortunate that Laval has two choices. Evidently the French need a loan, and they would doubtless accept it in preference to a settlement of African affairs of war. But in case there is no loan to be had, a peace treaty of some sort will do.

Back To The Family

Communist Russia, report Moscow correspondents of American newspapers, is swinging back to the ideas of a state founded on sound family life. This face-about attitude of the government is said to be complete, and the warm smile of Dictator Stalin is pictured often these days in the Soviet press as a doting father.

Simultaneous with this change has come a revolution in Russian divorce and marriage laws aimed at strengthening home ties and popularizing the idea of family life.

"If the Great Stalin can be happy as a family man, the rest of the nation can be likewise—that is the idea," writes one trained observer. Thus Communist Russia apparently has learned she can not afford to discard the cornerstone of her progress.

The social progress of all history can be traced directly or indirectly to the place of the family in the state, and the Russian about-face is significant for its recognition of a basic need.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

Fate of Neutrality Law May Hinge on Criticism of Wilson's War Course—Success of Senator Nye's Long Battle to Insure Peace Is Threatened by Serious Split in Committee

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal and Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington—On the contention that the memory of Woodrow Wilson has been besmirched may rest the fate of strong neutrality legislation at the present session of Congress.

A serious split in the Senate Munitions Committee over criticism of the acts of Wilson and other American statesmen threatens to cause collapse of the inquiry conducted for two years into the world arms traffic and World War financing.

The success which seemed so near may be snatched from Senator Gerald P. Nye, who has labored incessantly since 1934 for a stringent neutrality law. The lion's share of the credit for the inquiry goes to the North Dakota Republican, the only senator who could be persuaded to fight for investigation of the powerful munitions industry.

Not only has the committee headed by Nye uncovered convincing evidence of the need of laws to keep the country at peace, but Nye has made more than a hundred speeches over the country, pushing home the neutrality doctrine and outlining the sequence of developments that sent us into the conflict of 1917.

It seems certain that neither the administration nor Congress would have acted without the spur of a strong public sentiment. Nye did more than anyone else to provide that spur. Although recent hearings have disclosed machinations by American statesmen without which, many authorities say, we might have avoided war, and revealed the Morgan firm as an instrument of a financial-industrial process which made war apparently inevitable, Nye declares, "I have never before tried so hard to be without prejudice."

He and Senator Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri assert that they have had no desire to "smear" anyone.

Their idea has been to show, they state, that the Morgans were operating during the World War just as they would operate again in a similar case where there was no neutrality law, and that Wilson, as he came to favor the Allies over the Central Powers, was virtually helpless under the pressure of trade, waste, and finance.

A Heil for Clark?

The Morgan partners, who made vast profits from the war, are as fiercely patriotic and pro-Ally as ever.

Senator Bennett Clark of Missouri spent an afternoon ransacking by historical citations and hitherto secret documents, their contention that German submarine warfare alone plunged us into conflict.

If Wilson and Lansing had been as stern with England as with Germany, he showed, unrestricted sub warfare probably could have been avoided. It was then that handsomely groomed Mrs. George Whitney, wife of one of the chief Morgan partners, turned to a companion and whispered: "Is Senator Clark a German?"

Ha! A New Deal Victory!

So great is the preponderance of defeats of New Deal legislation in the courts that occasional victories for some of its acts go almost unnoticed. Here's an amusing instance of a win in a rather indirect way:

After the fashion of numerous other employers, the Duplex Printing Press Co. of Battle Creek, Mich., moved for dismissal of a National Labor Relations Board complaint against it, on the ground that the National Labor Relations Act was unconstitutional.

Its lawyers insisted "the activities of the company consist in local, intrastate manufacturing and the effect, if any, of such activities on interstate commerce is incidental, indirect, remote, and beyond the regulative power of Congress."

The company, one of the five largest manufacturers of presses, had been accused of firing two union men and laying off eleven others after a union petitioned for an election to test the contention of a local of the machinists' union that it represented a majority of employees.

Sudden Change of Heart

But suddenly the concern's counsel withdrew its protest, agreeing to recognize the union as sole collective bargaining agency for employees, reinstating the discharged and laid-off employees, and paying the union $1000 to settle claims of back pay.

The reason for the sudden retreat: The company was reminded that in 1920, when the machinists' union backed a strike at the Duplex plant by a secondary boycott in New York and elsewhere with pressure against purchase and installation of the company products, the company had obtained a supreme court injunction which said union activities "seriously interfered with the interstate trade of the manufacturer and caused a great loss to its business."

Faced with a seeming incongruity of position, the company decided to avoid litigation costs and resume customarily amicable relations with employees.

THE SCREEN REPORT

NOW PLAYING
WHAT - WHEN - WHERE

FOX ILLINOIS—Today only, Jack Haley in "Coronado."

FOX MAJESTIC—Today and Thursday, Charles Bickford in "East of Java."

FOX ILLINOIS—Starts Thursday, Carol Lombard and Fred MacMurray in "Hands Across the Table."

Is the "star system" on the wane in Hollywood?

The question comes up as a husky fortune has just been laid on the line in the belief that a picture without big names in it will be successful.

The film is Paramount's elaborate musical romance, "CORONADO," which plays at the FOX ILLINOIS Friday only. This picture boasts a top-flight dance band—Eddy Duchin's—a famous director, expensive sets and flocks of lovely dancing girls. Yet two "unknowns" have the leading roles.

The two players without "names" are Johnny Downs and Betty Burgess. Johnny, true enough, started his film career in the original Hal Roach "Our Gang" comedies and has had parts in "College Scandal," "The Virginia Judge," and the more recent "So Red the Rose." But his name is still anything but familiar to the movie-going public.

A GIRL'S GOT TO THINK OF HER FUTURE

... She's a sucker to fall for a poor man when it's so easy to love a rich one. That's the policy Carol Lombard hotel manicurist, follows in "HANDS ACROSS THE TABLE." ... So Carol goes to market and brings home a millionaire ... but when he borrowed $5.00 from her to pay the cabman ... Well, you're going to enjoy a lot this gay romance about a couple of fortune hunters who stopped looking when they found each other. ... It's the brightest, happiest, most diverting comedy romance that's been on the screen since "IT HAPPENED ONE NIGHT."

EAST OF JAVA

More nationalities and races are featured in Universal's thrilling sea and jungle picture, "EAST OF JAVA," which opens today at the FOX MAJESTIC Theatre, than in any other production in several years, according to a survey made of the cast and "bit" players.

The director, George Melford, Charles Bickford, the star, and Frank Albertson and Elizabeth Young are American. Leslie Fenton, however, was born in England while Siegfried Rumann was born in Germany. Frazer Acosta was born on the Malay Peninsula. Jay Gilbuena, the cabin boy, although part Chinese, is of Philippine birth.

Other members of the cast are Chinese, Hindus, Japanese, Polynesians, Hawaiians, Samoans and Mexicans, while a few are Negroes. Strangely enough all of the players were found right in Los Angeles, most of them having gathered from all parts of the world to seek fame in motion pictures.

In "East of Java," they not only got fame but hard work and a few scares, for their time was spent being shipwrecked and then fighting off wild animals who preyed upon them in accordance with the script of the picture. And Charles Bickford was nearly killed when a lion attacked him.

Passes today at Fox Illinois for C. L. Rudisill 260 Vandavia Road. At Fox Majestic for Ruby York RR 7 Jacksonville.

The King is Dead

"King George is dead. Long live King Edward." Scarcely twelve hours after the death of George V. ruler of half a billion of the world's population, his son the Prince of Wales took the throne as King Edward VIII. The man who has been before the world for a quarter-century as Britain's star salesman of good will, is now on the throne of the British empire.

With the passing of King George, much of the ancient dignity and majesty surrounding British royalty also passes away. The dead monarch in life was the embodiment of dignity, though he was not high-bat. He took the throne in 1910 upon the death of his father, Edward VII, though he had been preparing for his kingship since the early 1800's. King George was a man of the old school, quiet, retiring, taking little part in British politics aside from what was required of him in his royal office.

His son is a modern statesman, versed in the complicated workings of modern public affairs, one who believes in using modern means to achieve the ends of state. Witness his flight to London to take his oath of allegiance. He is the first British monarch to travel by air. He has at times stated very decided opinions on matters of government, and he may take some interest in politics. He is young and vigorous, just in the prime of life. He is already well known and popular.

The swiftness with which Edward assumed the reigns of government marks him as a man of action. Britain will feel his influence, and he will be more than a rubber stamp. Likely as not, he will be king in all that the name implies, yet "according to law" as stated in his oath of allegiance.

More Taxes Ahead

In the opinion of those at Washington in a position to observe the inner workings of government, when it comes to taxes, "we ain't seen nothin' yet." In a recent report to the Senate Mr. Morgenthau let it be known that he would have to do $5,000,000,000 worth of new financing in the next 17 months, drawing upon the banks for more of the cash which is lying idle because business is afraid of the very thing the government is doing—spending and setting the state for new taxes.

Those who scan the legislative agenda feel that Morgenthau has made his estimate low, and that the new money required will be more than five billions. They predict a debt of 36 billions before this administration passes into history. No new taxes will be levied until after the election, but then the fun will begin.

The orgy of spending which was inaugurated by the New Deal shows no sign of letting up. A balanced budget is no longer considered possible, and the nation whirled swiftly along the path of least resistance. The only logical way out is by an increase in taxes.

But for a time the people will be led to think only of the benefits they are receiving from government, so that they will vote for a continuance of those benefits. Once their votes have been secured, the increase in taxes will begin in earnest.

The burden will of course fall on the wage-earner, cutting his buying power and reacting on business, which is already struggling under increased tax burdens. More taxes tend to drag down productive activity and check creation of new wealth.

COOKING FOR CONVALESCENTS
CALLS FOR FOOD PERFECTION

Neat, Careful Serving Also Is Most Important

When selecting food gifts for the invalid, remember that appearance is doubly important. A basket, filled with fruits and packaged foods, like this one is the ideal gift.

(From Park & Tilford, New York.)

By MARY E. DAGUE

It was Aunt Nellie's appendicitis operation that taught me how difficult it is to cater to an invalid or convalescent who cannot have the food that is prepared for the family. Hearty meats and vegetables, pastries and hot puddings have no place on the invalid's tray. So special dishes must be prepared for the ailing one.

Every effort should be made to tempt the invalid to eat well and regularly. The patient's appetite may be capricious and the cook is bound to spend hours racking her brains for inviting and nourishing dishes.

Variety and the element of surprise are essential. Meal time is an oasis in the monotony of the invalid's day, but if egg and toast always appear in the same form, the patient can't be expected to wax enthusiastic about them. Of course, the doctor's orders about diet must be carefully followed.

Supplement Milk With Fruit
When milk is the basis of the convalescent's diet, it generally may be supplemented with fruits. Pure orange juice, slightly sweetened, and diluted grapefruit juice and lemonade are particularly desirable and available at this time of year. Canned and stewed dried fruits also can be used.

The person who does not like milk to drink should be served cream soups, vegetables in well-made cream sauces and desserts made with milk or else served with cream.

Eggs should be used generously unless the patient strongly dislikes them. Poached, cooked or shirred, they can take the place of meat. In custards or beaten into milk and flavored with vanilla or nutmeg, they are nourishing and easily digested.

The dessert made with milk and eggs adds quite as much nourishment to the meal as if it were the main dish and at the same time is dainty and appealing.

Use the utmost care in flavoring.

Included in the group were representatives of the Brown's Business College, Business and Professional Women, Northminster church, Shoe factory, Woolworth Company, New Method Book Bindery, and others. The plan is to play the games at the MacMurray College gymnasium, at a very nominal net team.

STRENGTH ALL GONE

WHEN you are run down, weight below normal and you feel tired-out and weak, it should not be overlooked. Follow the advice of Mrs. R. M. Clark of 217 No. Horton St., Jackson, Mich., who said: "Eight years ago I was all run down—my strength all gone. I couldn't do my housework. I started taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I rested better at night and I would wake feeling refreshed. My appetite improved and I gained in strength. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is absolutely the best tonic I have ever used." Buy now of your neighborhood druggist. Write to Dr. Pierce's Clinic, Buffalo, N. Y.

Too sweet or too highly flavored dishes usually will not please an invalid.

Never serve a sick person anything that is not perfect in its way. If the custard is over-baked and seems watery, don't serve it. Some well member of the family can eat it.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Steamed flax, cereal, cream, waffles with syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Potato and cheese soup, baked onions, cream and apple salad, ginger snaps, lemonade.

DINNER: Baked bluefish, French fried sweet potatoes, spinach with lemon butter, lima bean and celery salad, meringue shells filled with pineapple sherbet, milk, coffee.

If the patient suggests any particular dish and it sounds outlandish to you, ask the doctor if he may have it. Move heaven and earth to get it for him if the doctor gives permission. But it's seldom a good idea to ask a sick person what he wants to eat.

Avoid Cluttering Tray

Try not to crowd the tray and serve the meal in courses if at all possible. Used dishes are unsightly and unappetizing.

Be very careful not to fill the dishes too full, too. Bouillions and beverages spill easily when carried on a tray and can spoil the daintiest effect. Don't use chipped or cracked china and glassware, and be sure the silver is bright and shining. The tray cloth and napkin, too, should be immaculate.

All these things mean much to anyone who has nothing to do but get well and who consequently notices every detail pertaining to his comfort.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

History class will meet at the home of Mrs. C. A. Hemphill, 1033 West State street, with Mrs. Hugh Beggs as hostess. Mrs. A. R. Gregory will be the program leader.

Fortnightly club will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock with Mrs. Carl O. Gordon, 116 Park street, Mrs. J. A. Palmer will be in charge of the program. Mrs. H. C. Jaquith will speak upon "Russia in Politics."

Wednesday class will meet with Mrs. Lawrence Milligan, 309 Woodland Place.

Sorosis will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. John G. Ames, 1061 Grove street. Professor Joe Patterson Smith will be the guest speaker and will address the members upon the "Biography of Robert E. Lee" by Douglas S. Freeman.

The Strawn Crossing Woman's club will meet today with Mrs. A. D. Arnold 415 South East street.

CONSTIPATED 30 YEARS

"For thirty years I had chronic constipation. Sometimes I did not go four or five days. I also had awful gas bloating, headaches and pain in the back. Adierka helped right away. Now I eat sausage, ham, eggs, anything I want and never feel better. I sleep soundly at night and enjoy life."—Mrs. Maud Schett.

If you are suffering from constipation, sleeplessness, sour stomach, and gas bloating, there is quick relief for you in Adierka. Many report action in thirty minutes after taking just one dose. Adierka gives complete action, cleaning your bowel tract where ordinary laxatives do not even reach.

Dr. H. L. Shoup, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing Adierka checks the growth of intestinal bacteria and colon bacilli." Give your stomach and bowels a real cleansing with Adierka and see how good you feel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and chronic constipation. Sold by all druggists and drug departments—Steinheimer Drug Store.

Party For Mrs. May

Mrs. Edward May, of Jacksonville, who before her recent marriage was Miss Frances Shelton, of Ashland, was honored by a shower given by Mrs. Crum Walbaum, at her home in Springfield, Saturday afternoon. The guest of honor was the recipient of many lovely gifts, after which four tables of bridge were enjoyed, and were followed by a delicious luncheon. First honors were won by Miss Christine Six, second by Mrs. Conway Walbaum, and traveling prize by Mrs. R. V. Brownback.

Other guests from Ashland included Mrs. Elwell Mau, Mrs. Paul Duling, Mrs. Leo Voismier and the Misses Sylvan Six, Lois Wyatt, Dorothy Wolford and Florence Wilson.

Darrell Walker and James Spencer Thornley, talented Ashland singers, who were scheduled to be heard over the amateur broadcast of WCBS radio station, Tuesday night, Jan. 21, will be heard instead over the same station Tuesday night, Jan. 28.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Mau and family, of Ashland, Mrs. Sam Danenberger and daughter, Sally Joan, of Winchester, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stuart Wyatt in Bloomington.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reiser motored to Alton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Stribling were visitors Sunday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Yowell in Virginia.

Miss Bertha M. Rhodes departed Saturday morning for Chicago, after a visit with her sister, Mrs. Shelley Robinson.

Tigers Meet Bath in First Game of Ashland Tourney; Flashes Play Berlin Quint

Games Tonight.
7:30 p. m.—I. S. D. vs. Bath.
8:30 p. m.—Franklin vs. New Berlin.

Illinois School for the Deaf's caging Tigers tonight will make another stab at the Ashland tournament title, running into one of the strongest teams in the tournament in the opening game. Bath-Lynchburg, with only two defeats against their record thus far this year, will be the first opponents for the Tigers, who tilt the lid on the annual affair.

Franklin and New Berlin clash in the second game of the opening card. Two more games, bringing together Ashland and Chandlerville in the first tilt and Converse of Springfield and Tallula, are scheduled for Thursday night.

The Tigers, who rank as one of the stand-outs in the eight team tournament, will have a tough opponent in their first round. The Bath club, with a lot of height and agility, are excellent shots and will be able to match the Tigers almost shot for shot.

Coach S. Robey Burns will have available the same team that last Friday night won from Routt and plopped Athens just before the Christmas holiday. Wells and Reisk, forwards; Baumann or Carlson, center; Arman and Wildrich, guards, probably will be the starting line-up.

A victory in this game would indicate that either team has an excellent chance of being crowned the champion. Ashland ranks as the strongest team in the lower bracket, with a slight margin over Chandlerville as the result of victories over the Comets already this year.

Illinois School for the Deaf, present holders of the sportsmanship trophy, will bring back the rotating trophy to defend it again. The Tigers won it last year. The trophy is one of the most popular to be awarded during the four night grand.

Players from each of the squads in the tournament will compete in a free throw tournament being held in advance of each team's first game. A trophy will be awarded to the team making the highest percentage of tosses out of 25 throws.

Gregory Shoaff, of Springfield, and Wilbur Trumpe, of Havana, will be the officials.

Pearl Dedicates New Gym With Victory Trample On Griggsville 45 To 17 To Open New Gymnasium

Pearl, Jan. 21.—Pearl reversed the usual order of things here tonight when they dedicated their new basketball gymnasium, romping on Griggsville for a 45 to 17 victory. Griggsville reserves won the second team game from the Pearl reserves 17 to 15.

Dr. S. M. Thurmon, president of the board of education, R. J. Nichol, superintendent of schools of Griggsville, speakers on the dedicatory program, and J. L. Beasley, president of the board of directors of the school district, assisted by Mary Ann Blair, performed the dedicatory ceremony before a large crowd.

T. U. Smilt and Hugh Gibson, builders of Jacksonville who constructed the building, were present for the dedicatory exercises.

Between baskets and votes this column is having a lot of fun.

Anyway, there are no hard feelings between the athletic department at Illinois College and Herb Scheffler, Scheffler and his Springfield playmates came over here Monday night and Herb had a talk with Van Meter and Nusspickel while here.

Joe Bestudik, who got his prep school baseball under Coach Wallace Baptist at Routt high, is going into professional baseball next year. Joe has signed up with Monessen, Pa., in the Penn State league.

Ernest Keithley, former Oakford and Petersburg high athlete, is under contract with Fort Worth in the Texas League.

Of the 13 original rules of basketball drafted by Dr. James Naismith of basketball, the inventor of the sport, only one is being entirely removed from the game.

It is Rule No. 4, which reads:

The ball must be held in or between the hands; the arms or body must not be used for holding it.

"I believe that old rule prevented much of the roughness that has crept into the game," said Dr. Naismith.

Rule 2 permitted the batting of the ball with the hand (other than the fist), and this, Dr. Naismith says, seems to have been revived this year, to the improvement of the game.

Routt high players are wondering whether George Evans and Everett Turner, two Quincy high cagers, will be in the line-up when they go over there Saturday night. The two boys finish their period of eligibility at the end of the semester, which closes this week-end. The semester closes Friday night, but the second semester doesn't open until Monday—so what?

Governor Reads Message to Assembly Last Night

Trenton, N. J.—(AP)—The impeachment bomb which spluttered threateningly after Gov. Harold G. Hoffman reprieved Bruno Richard Hauptmann turned out today to have been a dud.

The governor, whose 30-day respite for the condemned Lindbergh baby killer stirred his foes to talk of impeachment, appeared at a joint session of the legislature last night, was cordially received, and read a special message on social security.

The Hauptmann case was not mentioned in either senate or assembly, and the Democratic minority leaders gave no hint that any open criticism would be made of the chief executive.

Gov. Hoffman's attitude on Hauptmann, who would have been electrocuted last Friday night except for gubernatorial reprieve, was somewhat clearer today after a new explanation of his interest in the case.

Governor Hoffman emphasized that his reprieve action was in no sense to be taken as an indicator of any belief on his part that Hauptmann is innocent.

SMALLPOX EPIDEMIC FORESEEN IN REPORT TO STATE DEPARTMENT

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—The threat of a smallpox epidemic was seen today by the state health department in the eight new cases reported in Illinois during the week ending yesterday.

The 23 cases to date this year compare with four in the same period last year.

"Although the number of cases reported so far is relatively small, the rapidity with which the disease can spread, coupled with a substantial unvaccinated population, give rise to the possibility of an epidemic wave," Dr. Frank J. Jirka, health director said.

OUT OF DANGER
Oklahoma City, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Lloyd Warner, "Little Poison" of the Pittsburgh Pirates outfield, was pronounced out of danger tonight after a sudden pneumonia attack.

Warner developed pneumonia Saturday. His wife said he contracted a cold at a hockey game.

yesterday the disease spread to his left lung. For a time his condition was serious. Serum was rushed here from Kansas City.

Indiana Pulls Out Another Tight One

Defeats Wisconsin 26-21 to Hold First Place in Big Ten

Chicago—(AP)—It must be that the Hoosiers of Indiana, bowling along out in front in the Big Ten basketball title race, get a kick out of winning games the hard way.

The pace-ster accounted for their fifth straight conference triumph last night, a 26 to 24 decision over Wisconsin, and for the fourth consecutive game had to employ stalling tactics during the closing minutes.

Indiana led by 15 to 9 at halftime, but slowed down late in the second half and the Badgers took a 23 to 22 lead. The Hoosiers regained the lead on four free throws, two of them by substitute guard Joe Platt, then hung on to the ball for two minutes to make the slender margin last out.

Michigan climbed into a tie with Ohio State for third place at three victories and two defeats, by conquering Iowa, 31 to 27, in an overtime thriller at Ann Arbor. The Hawkeyes capitalized on free throws to gain a 27-24 tie at the close of regulation time. George Rudness and Chelo Tomaseno fired in baskets for Michigan in the overtime.

Minnesota achieved one of the prize upsets of the season in defeating Northwestern, 39 to 29, in a hair-raiser at Minneapolis. It was the Gophers' first victory in five Big Ten starts. George Roscoe, one of Minnesota's gridiron heroes, led the surprise attack with 13 points. The defeat was Northwestern's second in four games.

MT. STERLING WINS PAIR FROM VIRGINIA
Mt. Sterling, Jan. 21.—Mt. Sterling won two games from Virginia here tonight, defeating the regulars 28 to 12, and the second string 47 to 7.

The second team victory kept the Mt. Sterling reserves on top in the West Central second team conference race.

Winchester Wins At Alsey In Battle

Alsey, Jan. 21.—Winchester high's Wildcats threw a tight net around the Alsey hoop here tonight and Alsey dropped a rough and tumble game against its rivals from the county seat 33 to 13. Alsey won two other basketball games during the evening, however, the grade school team defeating the Kane Grades in a curtain raiser 21 to 11, and the Alsey Black-hawks winning from the Winchester Indians 36 to 30.

Sporting Season Ends For Convicts

Joliet, Ill., Jan. 21.—(AP)—The winter sporting season ended for six Stateville prison trustees today.

They were brooding in solitary confinement after a hobbled ride that took them, alas, too far outside the prison walls.

Time hung heavy on their hands last week, Warden Joseph Ragen learned, so they built a bobbed from odds and ends in the blacksmith shop. They were to use it for short rides after they finished unloading trucks.

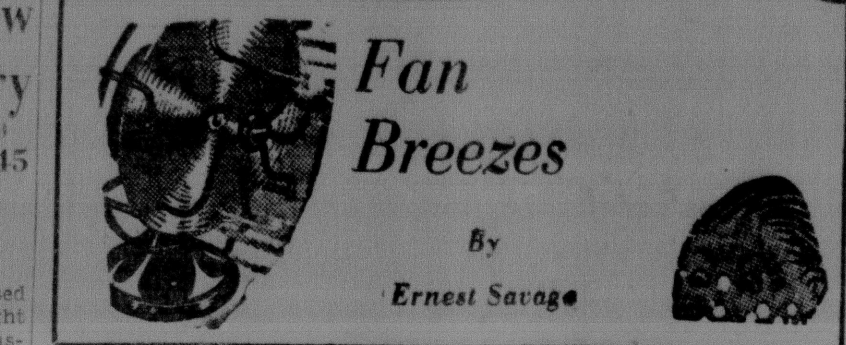

Today the rope they had hitched around the axle of a departing truck was not released at the gates and they went sledding into the countryside. A startled guard relieved them.

Just across 42nd street the Yankees spent a busy day mailing out contracts and getting the signature of pitcher Johnny Murphy on the dotted line.

The Dodgers, not to be outdone, flashed 1936 contracts bearing the flourishes of shortstop Linus Frey and outfielder Ralph Boyle.

Guessers have it, the Giants will add about $1,500 to the $15,000 Oit is believed to have been paid last year.

Assignments to Regionals Announced by I. H. S. A. A.; to Seed Out Teams for Districts

Chicago—(AP)—Assignment of 874 teams—the most ever to compete—to 62 basketball regions was made today by C. W. Whitton, manager of the Illinois High School Athletic association, as the first step to decide the 1936 championship.

Springfield captured the 1935 title, sought by the largest previous number—862 teams.

This is the first year there will be two series of tournament. One series is termed "district tournament," in which the eight teams rated as weakest in each region will play.

Each school will rate every other school in the region with reference to strength. The average rating will then be figured out and the assignment to district tournaments will be dependent on this average rating.

In most cases 14 teams are assigned to a region. Play will start in the district tournament Feb. 26, with the regional tournaments coming up March 4 to 7. Teams in each region not assigned to district tournaments will compete in the regionals, thus winner and runner-up of each district will compete in the regionals thus giving teams from small schools a chance to advance further in play by not being forced to meet teams from larger schools in the first round and risk possible immediate elimination.

The region assignments are: Beardstown—Ashland, Beardstown, Brookfield, Brownsville, Chambersburg, Chandlerville, Hersman, Huntsville, Industry, Littleton, Mt. Sterling, Rushville, Vermont, Versailles, Greenfield—Carlinville, Girard, Lincoln—Armington, Atlanta, Beason, Chestnut, Elkhart, Hartsville, Latham, Lincoln, McLean, Mt. Pulaski, New Holland, Shirley, Waynesville.

Pittsfield—Barry, Baylis, Griggsville, Hull, Kinderhook, Milton, Nebo, New Canton, New Salem, Pearl, Perry, Pittsfield, Pleasant Hill, Rockport, Rockport Atlas, H. S.

Quincy—Augusta, Camp Point, Clayton, Coatsburg, Golden, LaPrairie, Liberty, Lima, Loraine, Mendon, Payson, Seymour, H. S., Plymouth, Quincy, Timewell, Ursula.

Springfield—Buffalo, Chatham, Divernon, Edinburg, Glenarm, Ball, Twp. H. S., Kincaid, Pawnee, River-ton, Springfield, Springfield Converse, H. S., Springfield Peltshans H. S., Stonington, Williamsville.

pitchers and catchers who are to report at St. Petersburg March 1, and to Joe DiMaggio, the outfield sensation from San Francisco; outfielder Fred (Dixie) Walker and an infielder Frank Crosetti who also were ordered to report with the first squad.

Walker and Crosetti were offered conditional contracts. That means they must show manager Joe McCarthy they are in shape to play ball before their salaries are fixed.

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Risking only his prestige, Tony Canzoneri, lightweight boxing champion, meets Breicio Garcia, Mexican 135-pound title-holder, in a 10-round non-title bout at the Star Casino tomorrow night. Garcia has agreed to come in while the Dodgers, not to be outdone, flashed 1936 contracts bearing the flourishes of shortstop Linus Frey and outfielder Ralph Boyle.

People Injured by Series of Mishaps In Greene County

Ice Causes Aged Woman to Fall and Fracture Hip; Man Kicked by Horse

White Hall—A week-end accident occurred over the weekend, some rather serious and others of minor nature. Mrs. Mary Martin, 71, of Barrow, was thrown from a horse and had fallen on the icy porch at her home and broken her hip. She was rescued as well as could be expected Monday evening.

Edward Family, high school student, slid down the banisters at school Monday afternoon, and ran a splinter entirely through his leg. The splinter was extracted in Dr. Paul Bauer's office. Both ends of the splinter were protruding through the flesh, and he was treated without anesthesia.

Mrs. Jean, housewife, slipped on the ice Saturday and strained the ligaments in her leg.

Mrs. American, Seely started into the cellar at home Monday morning and the door fell on her hand and crushed the middle finger on her right hand. It was necessary to have several stitches in the finger.

William, who is employed on the P. J. Food store, was kicked by a horse early Monday morning. It was necessary to take some stitches in the knee and a tetanus shot was administered. Mr. Elliott, thought the horse became frightened when he was running in the barn. The accident occurred before day light.

Miss, the seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith put some beads into his ears Friday evening and he and his mother were taken to the hospital and treated.

Three in one ear and two in the other. He and his younger sister had been playing with a strand of beads and when the strand broke they put the beads in their ears. Fortunately the little girl used the smaller beads and they were removed without difficulty.

People Injured by Series of Mishaps In Greene County

Ice Causes Aged Woman to Fall and Fracture Hip;
Man Kicked by Horse

White Hall—A number of accidents occurred over the week-end, some rather serious and others of minor nature. Mrs. Mary Marsh, 77, of Barrow, was brought to White Hall hospital Saturday afternoon, after she had fallen on the icy porch at her home and broken her hip. She was resting as well as could be expected Monday evening.

Edward Penity, high school student, slid down the banisters at school Monday afternoon, and ran a splinter entirely through his leg. The splinter was extracted in Dr. Paul Bauer's office. Both ends of the splinter were protruding through the flesh, and it was drawn out without having to make an incision.

Mrs. Jean Meyerstein slipped on the ice Saturday and strained the ligaments in her leg.

Mrs. Americus Seely started into the cellar at her home Monday morning and the door fell on her hand and crushed the middle finger on her right hand. It was necessary to take several stitches in the finger.

Kicked by a Horse
William Elliott, who is employed on the P. J. Roodhouse farm east of Beloit, was kicked on the knee by a horse early Monday morning. It was necessary to take some stitches in the knee and a tetanus shot was administered.

Mr. Elliott thought the horse became frightened when he hung up a lantern in the barn. The accident occurred before day light.

Nile, the seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith put some beads into his ears Friday evening and it was necessary to take him to the hospital and administer an anesthetic to remove the beads. There were three in one ear and two in the other. He and his younger sister had been playing with a strand of beads and when the strand broke they put the beads in their ears. Fortunately the little girl used the smaller beads and they were removed without difficulty.

Class Holds Tea Party
Mrs. Curtis Griswold was hostess to the members of the C. & W. class of the Presbyterian church at her home on North Main street at a "Grandmother's tea party," Thursday evening.

The guests came attired in old fashioned costume of grandmother's time. The new officers were in charge. They are Mrs. Ralph Griswold, president; Mrs. Curtis Griswold, vice president; Mrs. Delbert Crabtree, secretary; Miss Helen Worcester, treasurer. Mrs. H. E. Bell is teacher of the class.

A big pep meeting was held at the White Hall high school Monday morning and school was dismissed until noon, to celebrate the victory of the basketball team at the Winchester tournament held last week. The fans are looking forward to another victory at the Greene county tournament to be held in Roodhouse soon.

Dr. W. H. Garrison and son, Harold, drove to Belleville Thursday night to see Rev. Otto Pessel who is seriously ill. Dr. Garrison's son, Dr. George Garrison of Oklahoma City, married the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Pessel.

Will Open Revival
A series of revival meetings will begin at the Tabernacle Baptist church on East Carlinville street Wednesday night of this week. Elder Homer Evans of Winchester, pastor for the Tabernacle church will be in charge.

Called to California
George W. Gardiner, left Saturday for Santa Monica, California, where he was called to be at the bedside of his mother, Mrs. Susan Gardiner, who is past 91 years old and was critically ill with pneumonia.

Miss Laura Baker who has been doing indexing work in the White Hall library, left Sunday to go to Belleville to visit her sister, Mrs. A. G. Fehr, before going on to take a permanent job in the Richmond Parish Library at Rayville, Louisiana.

Elder J. O. Raines arrived home from Medora, Sunday night where he had been conducting a revival meeting, which closed on account of bad roads. There had been nine conversions so far. Mr. Raines then went to Scottville Monday morning to conduct funeral services for Mrs. Thomas Ballard at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

The burial was made in the Jones cemetery east of White Hall.

Mrs. Ballard before her marriage was Miss Elizabeth Ann Leisenfeldt of White Hall and she and her husband celebrated their golden wedding last August 25. She leaves a number of relatives in this vicinity.

JOHN SURRATT SR.
HONORED BY FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Surraatt of Chapin entertained at a family dinner in honor of her aged father, John Surraatt Sr. Several of his children, grandchildren and great grand children were present.

Those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Surraatt and family; Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Dennis and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Cole Surraatt and children of Chambersburg, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Julius Dennis and children of Versailles, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Otis Surraatt and children of Concord; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Surraatt, Clara and Francis Surraatt, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Surraatt and children of Chapin.

John Surraatt of Chapin visited the week end with his daughter, Mrs. Otis Surraatt.

William Gaines of Concord is sick with flu.

Following the induction there will be refreshments. All members who have not yet been inducted should be present at this meeting which will be in charge of the out-going officers: President, Phil Barton; vice-president, Bob Hermann; secretary, Lee Murphy; treasurer, Dick Baldwin.

Long Pharmacy in Existence 20 Years

Pictures with Writup Show
Revolution in Business
of Two Decades

J. A. Long, who on Monday marked the twentieth anniversary of his drug business in this city, has received a writup in one of the drug trade magazines. Two photographs of Long's Pharmacy published with the article, show the revolution which has taken place in the drug business in the past twenty years.

One picture shows the Long store as it was shortly after its founding in one of the buildings that then occupied the site of the Elliott State Bank. Gas light, wooden floor, long rows of shelving lined with bottled drugs, and cases that contained little merchandise aside from pharmaceutical supplies, are shown in the picture. The other photo shows the modern store conducted by Mr. Long.

When the corner was cleared for the construction of the Elliott bank, Mr. Long moved his store to the next building south, and there it is located today. Mr. Long called to mind the situation in the drug business in this city twenty years ago, as he told today of his own start in 1916.

DR. BOWE IN LOUISIANA

Friends of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Bowe have received word that they are spending the winter at the Benaville hotel in New Orleans. Dr. Bowe wrote that the weather there is like April in Illinois.

Centenary Church Notes

Zero weather did not deter fine groups from attending the service Sunday especially in the morning worship. Rev. Blair continued the theme of last Sunday using as a subject, "Incarnations to be Expected." The text, "I Am a Bodily Man," Rom. 1-14. With appealing eloquence he clearly developed the thought that a hearty co-operation on the part of the individual with certain great incentives will help live "the good life."

These are a healthy fear of consequences, a sense of obligation and honor, a desire for approval with the spirit of good sportsmanship. These high incentives will bring individual life in harmony with the Christian life.

The official board has set a part Sunday, February 2, as "Cool Sunday." Envelopes will be distributed in all departments and an appeal will be made for money to cover the coal bill. Watch for it. Be prepared to give to this appeal.

Tuesday evening at 8:30 the Ladies Aid will serve a Calendar Supper. Tables are arranged for each month and guests will be seated accordingly. The music was exceptionally fine. A. C. Mercat sang most appealingly. "The Ninety and Nine." This is one of his favorite selections and his great message reaches the souls of those who were fortunate to hear. Under the leadership of Miss Iola Whitlock the choir beautifully rendered "The Best of the Soul," by Heyser.

As a member of Centenary appeals to you to attend his helpful services. Invite some friend not attending church to be your guest. Make all who come feel welcome.

Public Sale—Stock, implements, household goods, etc. Jan. 23, 10:30, 3/4 miles east Concord. Mrs. Henry Schall. John Horner, Auct.

SPEAKS ON LIFE OF RUDYARD KIPLING

At the Illinois College assembly hour Tuesday morning the religious service was in charge of Prof. F. B. Oxtoby. The men's canteen under the direction of Prof. W. Z. Fleisher sang two numbers. Dr. Oxtoby spoke briefly of the life of Rudyard Kipling and read three of his poems, Recessional, If, and L'Envol.

PLAN SOCIAL MEETING
The Amoma class of First Baptist church will hold a social meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Insalls, 610 West State street. The Go-Gesters circle will entertain the Merry-Go-Rounds.

As a member of Centenary appeals to you to attend his helpful services. Invite some friend not attending church to be your guest. Make all who come feel welcome.

These are a healthy fear of consequences, a sense of obligation and honor, a desire for approval with the spirit of good sportsmanship. These high incentives will bring individual life in harmony with the Christian life.

Many Phone Calls Result Of City Election Tuesday

Journal-Courier Answers 1,437 Queries Last Night

Jacksonville citizens showed their interest in the Municipal Light Plant election yesterday by placing 1,437 calls to the Jacksonville Journal and Courier last night between 5 p. m. and midnight.

While the four telephone operators at the newspaper office were answering these calls the telephone operators at the Illinois Telephone Exchange were also busy for during the seven hour period they put 10,273 calls thru the switchboard.

The rush started as soon as the polls closed at five o'clock. Between 5 and 6 o'clock, 2,600 calls went thru the switchboard at the telephone office, 145 coming to the newspaper. The number increased to 3,034 calls between 6 and 7 o'clock with the newspaper getting 593 calls, the peak load of the evening.

Between 7 and 8 o'clock the telephone girls answered 2,837 calls, with 481 going to the newspaper office. The calls dropped off rapidly during the period between 8 and 9 o'clock, there being 967 calls put thru the switchboard, 130 going to the newspaper office.

Between 9 and 10 o'clock the newspaper received 77 calls out of 508 put thru the exchange. Between 10 and 11 o'clock the number of calls put thru the switchboard dropped to 218 with the newspaper getting 31.

Between 11 and 12 the number dropped to 88 with the newspaper getting 10 of these calls.

In addition to the calls received by telephone at the newspaper office, hundreds of persons gathered in front of the bulletin board to get the returns, which were posted quickly.

He appointed Joseph P. Thalmann of Wheaton as district director of this program. Assistants named by Wheaton included Mrs. Neill Baller of Springfield, in charge of naturalization and citizenship projects; George A. Cook of Fairview and Herrick, illiteracy education; Fred S. Lide of Galesburg, adult education; Ben F. Hoelscher of Marshall, adult education; and Joe Suter of Winchester, vocational education.

Card party, Catholic Church, Alexander, tonight.

Oxville

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Orr visited in the Oscar Merriman home Sunday night.

Mr. Joe Mullen visited Saturday evening and Sunday with Harve Thomas and family.

Mrs. Elsie Severns visited relatives in Jacksonville a few days last week.

The January meeting of the Golden Chair Sunday School class was held in the church Friday evening with forty-six present. A play, "Pin a Pin on Me," was given and enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Venia Gliman and Mrs. Helen Cox were hostesses.

Mrs. Carrie Campbell and son, William, were Winchester visitors Monday.

Mr. Russell Cox and family moved to their home east of Oxville recently. Monday evening a number of relatives and friends gathered at their home to welcome them to this community.

Those present were Russell Cox and family, Frank John and Virgil Gregory, August Damon, Wm. Chambers, Leonard Rolf, Herman Frezen, Luke Little, Arthur Hoots, Earl Gilman, Roy Gilman, George Cox, Mike Leady, Herbert Boes, Ogden Sears, Carl Cox and their respective families, Milo Walker and wife, James Davidson and son Don, Jack Bowman and wife, Rob Christenson and wife, Howard Bulig and wife, Almond Cox, Joe Six, Major Ellison, Frank Patterson and wife, Maseen Little and son Clyde, Cy and Dorothy Baird, Ora B. ## ILLINOIS STUDENTS GIVE FRENCH PLAYS

Illinois College students in the Conversation French class under the direction of Mrs. Leonore L. Tomlinson, presented two French plays Monday afternoon at the David A. Smith House before a large audience.

The comedies, "Le Professeur de Phonétique" and "Le Farce de Cuvier" were cleverly given.

"La Farce de Cuvier," a famous fifteenth century farce, was originally intended to be presented as a puppet show, with class members pulling the strings to make the mocking figures act.

Plans were changed, however, and Mary Capps, Carol Davis, and Rosemary Gentes pantomimed the act as Ralph Smith, Helen Granocolas, and Edith Patterson read the lines.

"Le Professeur de Phonétique" is a fine example of the French knack for satire of the broadest, most obvious, and most amusing sort. Lucille, the heroine, who is altogether desirable and beautiful, except for her immense mouth, was played by Adele Reed.

Monsieur Thomas, Lucille's papa, acted by Karl Monroe, assured her that he would do something about this, since it was preventing her marriage to a handsome young man, acted by Beulah Simpson. Cleona Frost and Mary Norman enacted a doctor and a surgeon who were interviewed by the fond papa without success. Patty Bradford was the "Professeur de Phonétique" who finally solved the difficulty. Ruth Leffler was a friend of Lucille's sister, and Betty Lacey read the explanations between action.

Couple Narrowly Escape from Death When House Burns

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Blaesser Discover Home on Fire; Nothing is Saved

Jerseyville, Ill.—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Blaesser, aged fielden couple, narrowly escaped death Saturday evening when their home in Fielden was destroyed by fire. Blaesser is eighty-six years of age and his wife is eighty-two.

Charles Blaesser, a son of the elderly couple, and Mrs. Mary Benton, a daughter, who reside with them, had come to Jerseyville a short time after seven o'clock on business.

While the aged couple was alone in the house, Mrs. Blaesser heard a noise and went to the window to investigate. She noticed a light outside and commented to her husband that there must be an automobile parked at their house. They opened the door and found the roof of the house in flames.

All of the furniture, clothing and other contents of the home were also destroyed by the fire. About the only articles saved were a few blankets which were thrown out the window by Mr. Blaesser. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

Change Teachers Three schools in Jerseyville had a change in their teaching personnel at the beginning of the second semester of the school term Monday morning, January 20th.

Mrs. Esther Cox who has been teaching in the Fifth Grade at the Jerseyville Grade school secured a release from her contract last week to accept a position on the staff of the Jersey Township High school. The board of this school found it necessary to employ another teacher because of the large number of students enrolled in History and Civics classes and Mrs. Cox will teach American History and Civics.

The vacancy at the local grade school occasioned by Mrs. Cox's resignation was filled by M. A. Curran who had been teaching at the White School District No. 29. He was succeeded at the White school by Mrs. Ruth McMahon.

Prior to the opening of the 1935-36 school year, Mrs. Cox had been employed to teach at the White school and when she resigned to accept the position in the city school, Curran was chosen as her successor.

MUST MEMORIZE PRAYER

Kansas City, Kas., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Three small boys, accused of burglary, today were ordered to memorize the Lord's prayer by Juvenile Court Judge Henry Meade.

The mother of two of the boys turned to them and said, "you know the Lord's prayer, 'now I lay me—' you remember that don't you?"

"I knew you didn't know it," the judge interrupted. He ordered the boys to appear Saturday and recite it.

PROGRESS CLASS IN ELECTION AT CHURCH

Concord—The Progress class of the Methodist Sunday school elected the following officers Sunday morning: President, Robert Schall; vice president, Miss Dolie Tribbett; secretary, treasurer, Julia Robinson, Carol Brookhouse; teacher, Miss Diana E. Krueger; assistant, Robert Schall.

E. M. Harmon and Joe Meyer started early Tuesday morning for Virginia and North Carolina, driving through in a car. Mr. Harmon will visit relatives during his stay.

Concord, Christian church announced: Sunday school next Sunday at 10:00 a. m., M. O. Smith, supt. Preaching services and communion at 11:00 o'clock. Rev. F. M. Crabtree, of Jacksonville, will bring the message. A full attendance is desired. This is a special service and there will be no evening service.

Religious New Deal Is Sermon Theme

Rev. W. C. Meeker Compares Old and New Testament Ideas in Sunday Address

"God's New Deal" was the subject of a sermon delivered Sunday morning at Westminster church by the pastor, Rev. W. C. Meeker, before a good audience. Miss Anslee Moore sang the soprano solo, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," with J. Philip Reed as accompanist.

Rev. Mr. Meeker used as his text the words from II Cor. 5:17, "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature. Old things have passed away. Behold, all things are become new."

He pointed out that the demand of the world is always for new things, and that the ideas set forth in the New Testament were as new in comparison with those of the Old Testament as in the New Deal of today when compared with former ideas of government.

In the first place, the speaker said, Jesus laid less emphasis on the letter of the law and encouraged a true spirit in religion. He also advocated universal brotherhood among men, instead of exclusiveness. He proclaimed the Golden Rule, instead of the rule of gold. Finally, salvation was based on repentance and the blood of Jesus, instead of the blood of birds and beasts.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Williamson have returned to Jacksonville after a visit of several weeks in Massachusetts and New York.

ILL FROM PNEUMONIA

Earl Ward of near Ashtland is at Passavant hospital, suffering from an attack of pneumonia. He has been ill for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fountain of the Chapin community were callers in the city yesterday.

Late Huey Long's Political Group Wins Election

Judge Richard Leche Has Large Lead In Race For Governor

New Orleans, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The late Huey Long's political faction led by governor's three to one majority in the governor's race in early returns from today's Democratic primary, which was marked by bloodshed, charges of "fraud," and a record vote.

Returns from 247 of the state's 1,575 precincts, 223 from New Orleans, gave Judge Richard Leche (Long) 89,829 votes and Congressman Cleveland (anti-Long) 34,197 votes. Leche's majority was 55,632.

Returns came in slowly from the country parishes, where balloting was still going on two hours after the regular closing time at 7 p. m. (Central Standard Time). Attorney General Gaston L. Porter ruled that all persons inside the voting barriers at that time should be permitted to vote.

Clear weather brought out a record number of voters and long lines formed at the precincts in many parishes throughout the day.

The number of persons qualified to vote was greater than ever before as a result of Long's law abolishing the one-dollar poll tax.

A shooting in a French quarter precinct here and the election of federal "observers" from voting places at Lake Charles today clinched a comparatively quiet election as Louisiana passed judgment on the "dictatorship" of the late Huey P. Long.

Efforts to arbitrate disputes between Long and anti-Long forces in New Orleans collapsed. Charges of "fraud" were made and denied.

Beardstown Club Plans For Recital

Begin Rehearsal For Program In Cass County; Other News Notes

Beardstown, Jan. 21.—The Beardstown Woman's club through its director Mrs. W. C. Smith has announced its annual spring recital. Practice for the work began Monday evening with a full attendance in the library club rooms.

While the date has not been definitely set, the recital will be given near the conclusion of the Woman's club spring program.

Selections from Haydn's "Creation" and the "Peer Gynt Suite" by Grieg are being rehearsed for the recital.

Mrs. Paul Winhold will be hostess to the Whittaker Circle of the Congregational church Wednesday afternoon at her home 211 E. Fifth street.

The Ladies' Aid of the church will be guests of the Circle at this time. This meeting is to take the place of a January meeting earlier in the month, postponed because of the icy weather.

The Woman's Club enjoyed a program called "Hobby Horses" Tuesday afternoon in their club rooms under the direction of the American home department who are Mrs. R. L. Northcutt, Mrs. L. L. Simpson and Mrs. E. L. Lewis.

The program was: "Leisure Time"—Mrs. Alice Ehrhardt. "Hobby Horses"—Mrs. Pearl Bley, Mrs. Charles Dutch, Mrs. E. Miller Dunn, and Mrs. Theodore Schaefer. "Round Table Talk"—Club members.

The hostesses were: Mrs. E. W. Miller, Miss Letta Simpson, Mrs. W. L. Kelley and Mrs. John Wessel.

The motto for the discussion was "To have a hobby is to have a sound insurance against the moth and rust that threatens one's maturing years." Exhibits of hobbies were also displayed.

Dismiss Charges Against Kierdorf

London, Ont., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Charges of armed robbery and abduction against Herman Kierdorf, Detroit salesman, in connection with the kidnapping of John S. Labatt, London brewer in 1934, were dismissed today for lack of evidence at a preliminary hearing.

Russell Knowles, arrested with Kierdorf at Ottawa, Ill., five weeks ago, was committed for trial Monday. Three men, Dave Melsner, Mike McCordell and Jack Bannon, are serving terms in Kingston penitentiary for the crime.

Kierdorf's wife rushed to embrace him when he was declared free. He was held on a deportation warrant and will be deported to the United States.

Alleged Slayer Is Convicted

Appleton, Wis., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Donald Lynch, 19, of Sheboygan Falls, Wis., was convicted tonight of the first degree murder of William Bloomer, a roadhouse operator, near here July 29, 1933.

The youth was sentenced immediately to life imprisonment. The jury, mostly farmers, reached the verdict after more than five hours deliberation.

Bloomer was shot during a holdup of the tavern by Lynch and another youth, both escaped inmates of the Wisconsin industrial school for boys.

GIRL IS HAULED TO HOSPITAL ON SLED

Troy, N. Y., Jan. 21.—(AP)—A bobsled was used today by a Valley Falls physician to haul a 20-year old girl patient more than a mile and a half over snow-blocked roads to a waiting automobile in which she was brought to a Troy hospital for an emergency operation.

Summoned to the home of Miss Irene Eyleschiner on the outskirts of the Vermont border town, Dr. James T. Lohnes, Jr., was forced to abandon his automobile. He obtained the bobsled and battled waist high snow drifts to haul the girl suffering from mastoid, to his car. The remaining seven miles to the hospital were covered more rapidly.

She was reported in "fair" condition tonight after the operation.

Legislature Opens "Final Drive" To End Special Meet

None Of Major Proposals However Has Been Advanced

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 21.—(AP)—The legislature tonight opened its "final drive" to adjourn the first and second special sessions on social security and relief measures, but none of the major proposals was advanced.

In the house a bitter battle was waged between Republicans and Democrats as to whom should receive credit for sponsoring a bill to abolish the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, but after an hour of debate the session adjourned without voting on the proposal.

In the senate the measure which would appropriate $750,000 for relief purposes was amended to provide for handling of the funds regardless of whether the IERC is abolished.

Neither house appointed members of a conference which must iron out house and senate differences over the old age pensions administration bill. Lieut. Gov. Thomas Donovan and Speaker Devine said they would make the appointments tomorrow.

F. W. Lewis, Robinson Democrat and a strong Homer worker, and Richard Lyons, Libertyville Republican, were the spearheads of the partisan battle in the house over the IERC.

Lewis at the start of the second special session sought to call up for passage his bill which would abolish the IERC, raise the relief fund share of the sales tax to one and one-half cents and provide its payment to the counties by a board composed of the governor, lieutenant governor and auditor.

Passenger May Have Caused Big Plane To Crash

Possibility That He Slugged Pilot And Co-Pilot Of Airliner

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Investigators studying meagre clues in the crash of the transcontinental plane "Southern" to Arkansas considered today the possibility a passenger, bent on self-destruction, caused the tragedy.

C. R. Smith, president of the American Air Lines, operators of the liner, in which 17 lives were lost last Tuesday, said in Chicago this was "one of many theories."

The development came while inspectors weighed the importance of an automatic pistol found in the wreckage of the huge craft near Goodwin, Ark.

It was theorized a passenger—temporarily deranged or planning to commit suicide without invalidating his insurance—slugged the pilot and co-pilot, causing the plane to plunge out of control.

The Dallas, Texas, News reported one of the passengers tried to buy an additional $25,000 in insurance after boarding the plane in the east.

A third body, other than those of the pilot and co-pilot, was found in the forward part of the wreckage, ahead of the two motors," Smith said, adding, however, the identity of the passenger had not been established. He said this fact "is not entirely conclusive that the passenger was in the cockpit or in the forward part of the ship when it crashed."

Expect Phone Firm To Protest Decision

State Wins First Case on Validity of Tax

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—The state won the first round in the court test of the three per cent utility tax law, but an appeal to the Illinois Supreme Court was expected to be filed by the Illinois Bell Telephone Company.

Circuit Judge L. E. Stone of Springfield ruled that the sales tax on utilities is constitutional. The Bell company, contending that it should not be taxed on business done by industrial and commercial customers, had sought to restrain state officials from enforcing the 1935 law.

The tax, intended for relief financing, applies to sales of all intrastate utilities except industrial power. Suits by other telephone companies had been held up awaiting Judge Stone's ruling.

GAS FIRM WITHDRAWS RATE INCREASE PLEA

Sought Increase to Pay for Three Per Cent Tax

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—The Western United Gas and Electric Company, which serves several scores of Illinois towns, today withdrew its petition before the Illinois Commerce Commission for increased rates to cover the three per cent utility tax.

It was the second large utility company to serve notice it will absorb the tax, the Illinois Power and Light Corporation having withdrawn a similar petition a month ago.

The Western United Company served 69 communities with gas, 21 with electricity and one—Murphyboro—with water.

The commission took under advisement the Railway Express Agency's application to operate motor trucks between Rushville and Beardstown, no opposition having appeared.

He appointed Joseph P. Thalman of Weston as downstate director of this program. Assistants named by Wieland included Mrs. Nellie Bailey of Springfield, in charge of naturalization and citizenship projects; George A. Cook of Fairview and Herrick, illiteracy education; Fred S. Ladd of Galesburg, adult education; Ben F. Hoelscher of Marshall, adult education; and Joe Suter of Winchester, vocational education.

Card party, Catholic Church, Alexander, tonight.

Oxville

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Orr visited in the Oscar Merriman home Sunday night.

Mr. Joe Mullen visited Saturday evening and Sunday with Harve Thomas and family.

Mrs. Elsie Severns visited relatives in Jacksonville a few days last week.

The January meeting of the Golden Chair Sunday School class was held in the church Friday evening with forty-six present. A play, "Pin a Pin on Me," was given and enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Venia Gilman and Mrs. Helen Cox were hostesses.

Mrs. Carrie Campbell and son, William, were Winchester visitors Monday.

Mr. Russel Cox and family moved to their home east of Oxville recently. Monday evening a number of relatives and friends gathered at their home to welcome them to this community.

Those present were Russel Cox and family, Frank John and Virgil Gregory, August Damore, Wm. Chambers, Leonard Rolf, Herman Frezen, Luke Little, Arthur Hoots, Earl Gilman, Roy Gilman, George Cox, Mike Leady, Herbert Boes, Ogden Sears, Carl Cox and their respective families, Milo Walker and wife, James Davison and son Don, Jack Bowman and wife, Rob Christensen and wife, Howard Bull and wife, Almond Cox, Joe Six, Major Ellison, Frank Patterson and wife, M. A. and Little and son Clyde, Cy and Dorothy Baird, Ora B. Likes and children. Refreshments consisting of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served. At a late hour everyone departed wishing the Coxes success in their new home.

ILLINOIS STUDENTS GIVE FRENCH PLAYS

Illinois College students in the Conversational French class under the direction of Mrs. Leonore L. Tomlinson, presented two French plays Monday afternoon at the David A. Smith House before a large audience. The comedies, "Le Professeur de Phonétique" and "La Parce de Cuvier" were cleverly given.

"La Parce de Cuvier," a famous fifteenth century farce, was originally intended to be presented as a puppet show, with class members pulling the strings to make the mocking figures act. Plans were changed, however, and Mary Capas, Carol Davis, and Rosemary Coultas pantomimed the act as Ralph Smith, Helen Granellos, and Edith Patterson read the lines.

"Le Professeur de Phonétique" is a fine example of the French knack for satire of the broadest, most obvious—and most amusing sort. Lucille, the heroine, who is altogether desirable and beautiful, except for her immense mouth, was played by Adele Reed.

Monsieur Tomas, Lucille's papa, acted by Karl Monroe, assured her that he would do something about this, since it was preventing her marriage to a handsome young man, acted by Beulah Simpson. Cleona Frost and Mary Notman enacted a doctor and a surgeon who were interviewed by the doctor's wife without success. Patty Bradford was the "Professeur de Phonétique" who finally solved the difficulty. Ruth Ledford was a friend of Lucille's sister, and Betty Lacey read the explanations between action.

Couple Narrowly Escape from Death When House Burns

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Blaesser Discover Home on Fire; Nothing is Saved

Jerseyville, Ill.—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Blaesser, aged fieldon couple, narrowly escaped death Saturday evening when their home in Fieldon was destroyed by fire. Blaesser is eighty-six years of age and his wife is eighty-two.

Charles Blaesser, a son of the elderly couple, and Mrs. Mary Benton, a daughter, who reside with them, had come to Jerseyville a short time after seven o'clock on business.

While the aged couple was alone in the house, Mrs. Blaesser heard a noise and went to the window to investigate. She noticed a light outside and commented to her husband that there must be an automobile parked at their house. They opened the door and found the roof of the house in flames.

All of the furniture, clothing and other contents of the home were also destroyed by the fire. About the only articles saved were a few blankets which were thrown out the window by Mr. Blaesser. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

Change Teachers Three schools in Jerseyville had a change in their teaching personnel at the beginning of the second semester of the school term Monday morning, January 20th.

Mrs. Esther Cox who has been teaching in the Fifth Grade at the Jerseyville Grade school secured a release from her contract last week to accept a position on the staff of the Jersey Township High school. The board of this school found it necessary to employ another teacher because of the large number of students enrolled in History and Civic classes and Mrs. Cox will teach American History and Civics.

The vacancy at the local grade school occasioned by Mrs. Cox' resignation was filled by M. A. Curran who had been teaching at the White School District No. 29. He was succeeded at the White school by Mrs. Ruth McMahan.

Prior to the opening of the 1935-36 school year, Mrs. Cox had been employed to teach at the White school and when she resigned to accept the position in the city school, Curran was chosen as her successor.

MUST MEMORIZE PRAYER

Kansas City, Kas., Jan. 21.—(P)—Three small boys, accused of burglary, today were ordered to memorize the Lord's prayer by Juvenile Court Judge Henry Meade.

The mother of two of the boys turned to them and said, "you know the Lord's prayer, 'now I lay me—' you remember that don't you?" "I know you don't know it," the judge interrupted. He ordered the boys to appear Saturday and recite it.

Crabtree, of Jacksonville, will bring the message. A full attendance is desired. This is a special service and there will be no evening service.

Religious New Deal Is Sermon Theme

Rev. W. C. Meeker Compares Old and New Testament Ideas in Sunday Address

"God's New Deal" was the subject of a sermon delivered Sunday morning at Westminster church by the pastor, Rev. W. C. Meeker, before a good audience. Miss Ansie Moore sang the soprano solo, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," with J. Philip Reed as accompanist.

Rev. Mr. Meeker used as his text the words from II Cor. 5:17, "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature. Old things have passed away. Behold, all things are become new."

He pointed out that the demand of the world is always for new things, and that the ideas set forth in the New Testament were as new in comparison with those of the Old Testament, as is the New Deal of today when compared with former ideas of government.

In the first place, the speaker said, Jesus laid less emphasis on the letter of the law and encouraged a true spirit in religion. He also advocated universal brotherhood among men, instead of exclusiveness. He proclaimed the Golden Rule, instead of the rule of gold. Finally, salvation was based on repentance and the blood of Jesus, instead of the blood of birds and beasts.

While the date has not been definitely set, the recital will be given near the conclusion of the Woman's club spring program.

Selections from Haydn's "Creation" and the "Peer Gynt Suite" by Grieg are being rehearsed for the recital.

Mrs. Paul Winhold will be hostess to the Whatever Circle of the Congregational church Wednesday afternoon at her home 211 E. Fifth street.

The Ladies Aid of the church will be guests of the Circle at this time.

This meeting is to take the place of a January meeting earlier in the month, postponed because of the icy weather.

The Woman's Club enjoyed a program called "Hobby Horses" Tuesday afternoon in their club rooms under the direction of the American home department who are Mrs. R. L. Northcutt, Mrs. L. L. Simpson and Mrs. E. L. Lewis.

Late Huey Long's Political Group Wins Election

Judge Richard Leche Has Large Lead In Race For Governor

New Orleans, Jan. 21.—(P)—The late Huey Long's political faction led by almost a three to one majority in the governor's race in early returns from today's Democratic primary, which was marked by bloodshed, charges of "fraud," and a record vote.

Returns from 247 of the state's 1,575 precincts, 233 from New Orleans, gave Judge Richard Leche (Long) 89,999 votes and Congressman Cleveland (anti-Long) 34,197 votes. Leche's majority was 55,802.

Returns came in slowly from the country parishes, where balloting was still going on two hours after the regular closing time at 7 p. m. (Central Standard Time). Attorney General Gaston L. Porter ruled that all persons inside the voting barriers at that time should be permitted to vote.

Clear weather brought out a record number of voters and long lines formed at the precincts in many parishes throughout the day.

The number of persons qualified to vote was greater than ever before as a result of Long's law abolishing the one-dollar poll tax.

A shooting in a French quarter precinct here and the election of federal "observers" from voting places at Lake Charles today enlivened a comparatively quiet election as Louisiana passed judgment on the "dictatorship" of the late Huey P. Long.

Efforts to arbitrate disputes between Long and anti-Long forces in New Orleans collapsed. Charges of "fraud" were made and denied.

GIRL IS HAULED TO HOSPITAL ON SLED

Troy, N. Y., Jan. 21.—(P)—A bobbed was used today by a Valley Falls physician to haul a 20-year old girl patient more than a mile and a half over snow-blocked roads to a waiting automobile in which she was brought to a Troy hospital for an emergency operation.

Summoned to the home of Miss Irene Eyleshiner on the outskirts of the Vermont border town, Dr. James T. Lohnes, Jr., was forced to abandon his automobile. He obtained the bobsled and battled waist high snow drifts to haul the girl suffering from mastoid, to his car. The remaining seven miles to the hospital were covered more rapidly.

She was reported in "fair" condition tonight after the operation.

Legislature Opens "Final Drive" To End Special Meet

None Of Major Proposals However Has Been Advanced

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 21.—(P)—The legislature tonight opened its "final drive" to adjourn the first and second special sessions on social security and relief measures, but none of the major proposals was advanced.

In the house a bitter battle was waged between Republicans and Democrats as to whom should receive credit for sponsoring a bill to abolish the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, but after an hour of debate the session adjourned without voting on the proposal.

In the senate the measure which would appropriate $7,500,000 for relief purposes was amended to provide for handling of the funds regardless of whether the IERC is abolished.

Neither house appointed members of a conference which must iron out house and senate differences over the old age pensions administration bill. Lieut. Gov. Thomas Donovan and Speaker Devine said they would make the appointments tomorrow.

F. W. Lewis, Robinson Democrat and a strong Horner worker, and Richard Lyons, Libertyville Republican, were the spearheads of the partisan battle in the house over the IERC.

Lewis at the start of the second special session sought to call up for passage his bill which would abolish the IERC, raise the relief fund share of the sales tax to one and one-half cents and provide its payment to the counties by a board composed of the governor, lieutenant governor and auditor.

A social hour followed during which the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

Slow Trading In Stock Market

By Frank MacMillen,
Associated Press Financial Writer.
New York, Jan. 21.—(P)—Although the rail shares pushed up for small gains, the industrial and utility side back today in the slowest trading since Dec. 19.

Measured by the Associated Press average of 60 stocks, the market was off 2 to 5 1/2. Transactions totaled 1,343,030 shares against 1,823,475 on Monday.

The bulls, analysts said, derived steam from the indicated improvement in loadings last week.

Notwithstanding the favorable attitude of financial circles toward the long-run prospects for the stock market, the day's trading fell under the cloud of nearly unrelenting uncertainty.

Market quarters pinned present hesitations on such elements as the oncoming Supreme Court decision on the TVA, government budgetary problems and the threat of possible further French political dislocations.

Suspension of trading on the London stock exchange out of respect for the late King George was reflected by a let-down in the nature of trading in world financial centers.

Curtailment of trading on the New York cotton exchange, the Chicago board of trade and other commodity exchanges likewise played a part in the shrinkage of activity.

Throughout the session the market had the benefit of a good scattering of selective buying. Gains of fractions to 2 or more points were turned in by Atlas Powder at 51 1/2, Briggs Mfg. at 45, Devoe & Reynolds "A" at 45 1/2, Owens Glass at 14 1/2 and Greyhound at 7 1/2.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Killam were visitors in Jacksonville yesterday from Markham.

Weak Tone In Swine Market

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(P)—A slight bulge in receipts gave the hog market a weak one today and prices lost part of yesterday's upturn. The early trade was unevenly steady to 15 cents lower, but demand improved later and the market closed steady to 10 cents off. The top was $10.10, established in late dealings.

Receipts were 23,000, which was 2,000 above advance estimates but 9,000 below offerings a week ago.

Activity in the cattle market increased and prices were steady to strong, or strong to 25 cents higher than yesterday's low close. Prime yearlings steers brought as high as $14, but these were no criterion of the general market.

Fat lambs lost 15 to 25 cents. The top for slaughter offerings was $10.40, but the bulk moved at $10.15 to $10.25.

Chicago Wheat Market Is Dull

By John P. Boughan,
Associated Press Market Editor.
Chicago, Jan. 21.—(P)—In a restricted volume of trading, believed the market on record, wheat prices today hovered around $1.00 a bushel, and registered no important change.

Complete suspension of grain dealings at Liverpool and Winnipeg, because of King George's death, largely eclipsed other factors. A little buying for domestic mills was of some effect as a steady influence, and served more or less to counterbalance temporary curtailment of export demand for wheat from Canada.

Wheat, after fluctuating in notably narrow limits of but 1/2 of a cent, closed steady, unchanged to 1/4 lower compared with yesterday's finish, May $1.00-1.00 1/2, corn 1-1/2 down, May 59 1/2-60, oats unchanged to 1/4 higher, and provisions varying 2 cents decline to an equal gain.

Much of the time, wheat values averaged a trifle higher, traders focusing attention on reports indicating probable broadening of purchases for flour makers. It was pointed out that flour stocks in bakers' and jobbers' hands were reported as unusually light, and that in view of Supreme Court orders to return process tax funds a natural result would be to restore greater confidence among flour buyers. An additional circumstance emphasized was apparent close proximity to an export basis for Oklahoma and Texas wheat shipped via the Gulf of Mexico.

Grace Church Doings

The cold weather affected the attendance in some services during the day. The Sunday school observed the birthday of Robert E. Lee in a very appropriate manner with a very thoughtful talk by Eugene Hayes in which he brought out some of the noble qualities of this prominent American. School attendance was 307 and the offering $8.50.

At the morning service Dr. Havis-hurst used as a sermon theme "Know Thyself" in which he made a strong plea for the following of Christ's standards of living.

Miss Louise Gates spoke to an unusually large Sunday evening audience. In a very interesting and informing manner she spoke upon "Observations and Impressions of Christian Work in South America."

The High School Epworth League was led by Virginia Sutherland and Emma Holle was the leader of the Young Peoples League.

The Standard Bearers held a pot-luck supper at the home of Elizabeth Frost, 350 West College avenue, on Tuesday at 5 p. m.

Boy Scout Troop No. 7 met Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

The Mid-week Service of Prayer and Bible Study will continue the study of the book of Acts, using the last part of chapter nine, all of chapter ten and the first part of chapter eleven as the basis of study.

The girls of Mrs. Charles Williamson's class will have charge of the devotional period of the Sunday school next Sunday morning.

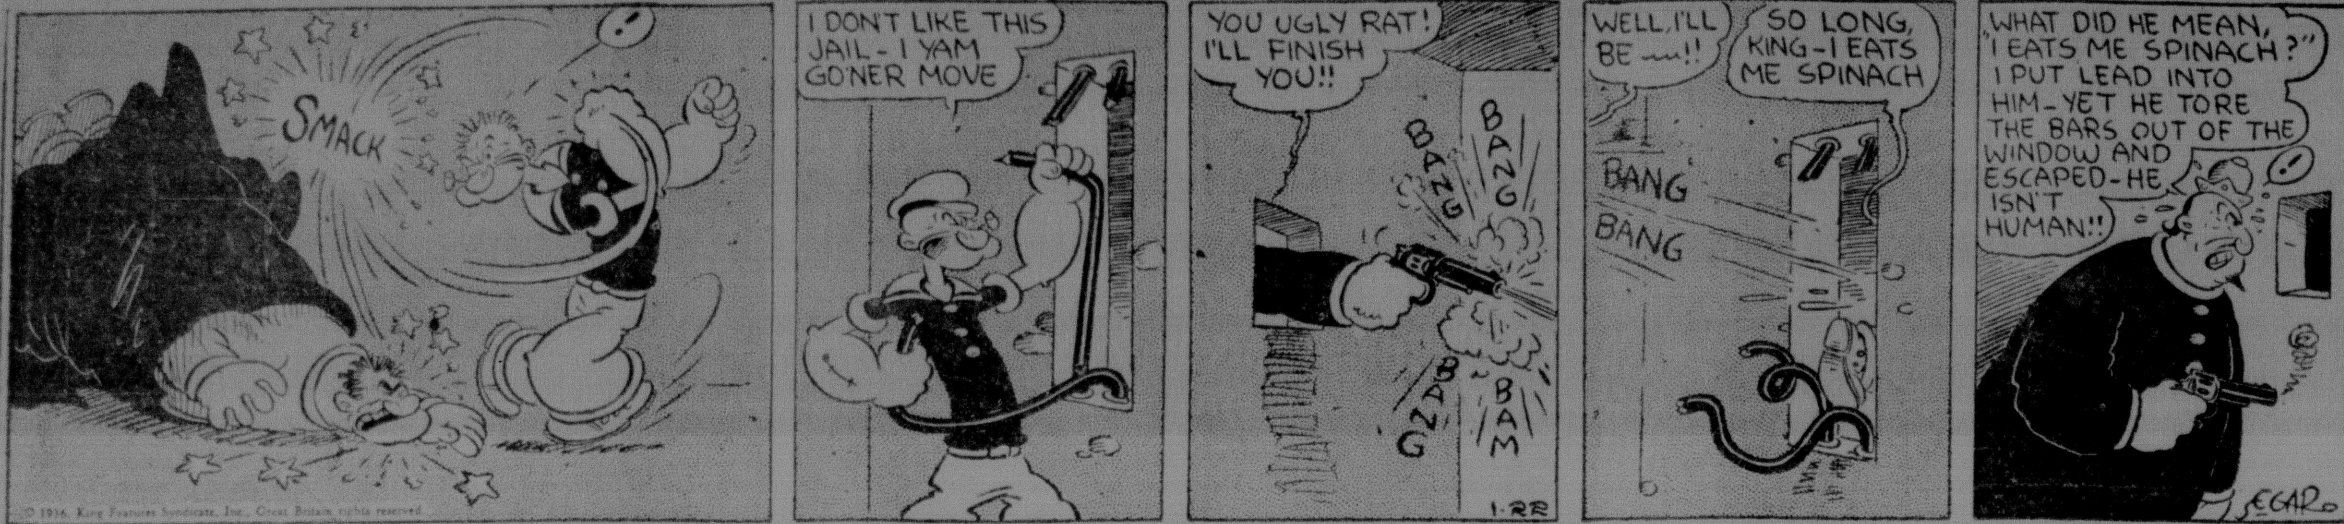

It is expected that Dr. McClelland will give a sermon address next Sunday evening upon the life of Sherwood Eddy.

Washington Social Events Cancelled By Death of King

Sympathy of Nation Wired to King Edward and Queen Mary

Washington—(P)—The house today adopted a resolution expressing "profound sorrow" at the death of King George of England, and without transacting any business adjourned immediately out of respect to the late monarch.

The senate was not in session. Members and gallery occupants stood with head bowed as the Rev. James Shera Montgomery, the chaplain, offered a prayer and asked "the Lord God to comfort the people of his realm."

"As we approach this day's task," he said, "may we believe in the resurrection and eternal life."

Washington—(P)—Universal expressions of regret that a "good king" had passed away were heard in the capital today as the nation's leaders sent condolences to the family of George V.

President Roosevelt sent a cablegram to the new king, Edward, as well as to Queen Mary, and to the governors general of the British dominions. Secretary Hull sent messages to the prime ministers of Britain and the dominions.

To Edward, who twice visited the White House as Prince of Wales, the president messaged:

"It is with deep sorrow that I learn of the death of his majesty, your father. I send to you my profound sympathy and that of the people of the United States, in whose respect and affection he occupied a high and unique place. I had the privilege of knowing his majesty during the war days and his passing brings to me personally a special sorrow."

To the widowed queen, the chief executive cabled:

"Mrs. Roosevelt and I extend to your majesty and to the members of your family our heartfelt sympathy and join you in mourning the loss of one whose high qualities of kindness and wisdom have been so powerful an influence for universal peace and justice."

When news of the king's death reached the White House the annual congressional reception, scheduled for Thursday night, was ordered postponed.

Likewise the British and dominion legations cancelled all social engagements. The union jack was run up to half staff on the British embassy, signalling the beginning of six months' mourning.

Columbia, S. C.—(P)—As if going to jail wasn't bad enough, passengers in Columbia's police patrol wagons are going to be charged a taxi rate for the ride. Mayor L. B. Owens instructed Police Chief W. H. Rawlinson to "see that a 50-cent charge is imposed on everybody who rides to the city jail in the patrol, provided they are convicted in the recorder's court."

Mrs. A. P. Myers of the Alexander community was a shopper in the city yesterday.

The STRANGE CASE of JULIA CRAIG

by Nard Jones
Copyright NEA 1935

Julia said, "Anything special you should take on a yacht trip."

"I'm Captain Bakely. Looking for the Wood Nymph?"

Julia told him that she was. "I'm Miss Craig, and I believe Mr. Woodford said I should be here about 9."

"Of course, Miss Craig. Come right aboard and I'll show you to your stateroom. Mr. Woodford and the other guests aren't aboard yet."

When Bakely had taken Julia to her stateroom and deposited her bag on the berth, he paused a moment at the door. "Please make yourself at home, Miss Craig. There are deck chairs aft."

"Thank you, I think I'll just stay here a while."

He nodded. "I'll tell Mr. Woodford when he comes that you're aboard."

When Bakely had gone, Julia looked about her. The stateroom was small but very pleasant and furnished in quiet taste. She wondered whether she should accept the captain's invitation to sit on the after deck, but at length decided not. Bakely might not know that the owner had invited her as an entertainer rather than as a guest.

TAKING a magazine from a little table in the corner of the room, she sat down to read. She read through one story, and began another. Then, impatient, she looked at her watch. It was after 10, but she had heard no one come aboard, yet the gangplank was quite close to the portholes of her stateroom. "But he said they wouldn't leave until late," Julia told herself, and resumed her reading.

When another hour passed, however, with no word from Woodford she began to wonder. All she had heard were vague sounds from below her, possibly in the engine compartment—and the occasional soft footfalls of someone on deck above. She was about to put on her coat and go above when there was a light knock at her door. It was Captain Bakely.

"I've just had word from the clubhouse that Mr. Woodford telephoned and said there'd be some delay in getting the rest of his party aboard. He suggested you needn't wait up unless you wanted to."

Julia thanked him, relieved—and decided that she wouldn't wait up. After all, the day in the office and the ensuing excitement of Woodford's interview hadn't prepared her to be at her best. "I'll get a good night's rest," she told herself, "and see what the world holds in the morning."

A moment later she was between the sheets of the berth and the stateroom was in darkness. With the water lapping rhythmically against the hull of the boat, Julia was soon asleep.

She awakened with a start, conscious of a new, yet still rhythmic, sound. Unmistakably, it was the sound of the yacht's engines. Julia tossed back the covers of the berth and looked from a porthole. Dock and gangplank were gone! All she could see was an expanse of water which dissolved into the pitch blackness of the sky.

But beyond the soft throb of the engines and the swirl of the hull driven through the water, there seemed to be not another sound aboard.

Election Reform is Being Studied; May Call Third Session

Horner Returns from Chicago with Cold Promises to Decide Soon

Springfield, Ill.—(P)—Governor Horner pondered Chicago election reform his next move in his counter attack against the Chicago organization of Dr. Herman N. Bundesen today.

He returned to the capitol last night, suffering from a cold, and cancelled all engagements for the evening, but promised a decision soon on a third special session of the legislature. The move was urged by many of his lieutenants who favored striking next at Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago through the assembly.

The primary purpose of the third session, if called, would be enactment of a permanent registration law which supporters said would insure "an honest count" in the April primary. The measure, it was presumed, would be along the lines of a Republican bill defeated in the 1935 regular session. That bill called for a card index-signature check system on all voters.

"It isn't a bad idea," the governor said of the proposal for a session. "The only thing I am concerned about in the campaign is an honest count in the primary."

To enact the measure as an emergency one effective in the April 14 primary the governor would need the assistance of a strong coalition in the legislature, presumably of downstate Democrats and Republicans. That he would have support in those directions was indicated by the resolution of the Cook County Republican central committee urging the session.

Bonus Bill Goes to House for Vote on Method of Payment

Roosevelt Continues to Keep Silent on What He Will Do with Measure

Washington—(P)—The bonus flood-tide swept along with unabated strength today as the Democratic leadership of the house laid plans to whisk to passage tomorrow a "baby bond" payment bill that smashed through the senate yesterday, 74 to 16.

By Thursday morning, it was indicated, the bill to pay off more than $2,000,000,000 of adjusted service certificates in $50 cashable bonds will be on President Roosevelt's desk provided the house makes no changes that require time to iron out.

The fact that yesterday's emphatic volley of aye votes was much more than the two-thirds necessary to override a veto strengthened predictions, made even by Democratic leaders, that the bill would become law whether President Roosevelt signed it or not. The house already has passed, 356 to 59, an immediate payment bill which is similar to the senate's except that it specifies no particular method of payment.

As the tide swept toward President Roosevelt's doorstep he remained silent on the question. Amid speculation as to what he would do, Senator Borah (R., Idaho) sized up the situation this way:

"Senator Harrison (D., Miss.) has stated that if the senate passed this bill it would become law. We know the intimate relation of the senator with the president. His statement means either the president will sign the bill or, if not, the president's supporters in the senate will vote to override the veto."

Legion Program Of Americanism Talked At Chow Club Meet

Department Official Is Speaker Here Tuesday Evening

Ed O'Connor, Peoria, department chairman of the Illinois American Legion's program of Americanism, defined that campaign for the local Chow club last evening at the dinner meeting in the American Legion home, in terms of adequate preparedness, destruction of forces advocating material change in our form of government, and a fight for the congressional adoption of the war time drafting of wealth and resources as well as manpower to take the "profit out of war."

L. K. Gilchrist, president, introduced Rev. F. J. Lawler who was in charge of the program for the evening and the introduction of the speaker. Following the dinner, the Illinois College Men's Glee Club sang a group of four numbers.

Opening his remarks, the Legion official admitted the impossibility of dealing with all the details of the Americanism program which the organization has adopted. He desired, rather, to explain away the criticism which termed the effort an "alarmist" movement.

He emphasized that the soap box orator and the militant radical were not dangerous and were not the objects of the Americanism "push." It is the intelligent and highly trained radical groups working under cover of innocent movements that must be the target of attacks in defense of the American democracy.

"One of the most vicious and most dangerous programs of propaganda is the effort in the past three or four years to blame the ills of the depression upon supposed weaknesses in our form of government. These forces suggest revision of the Constitution."

Plans For Success

Passing from the criticism of the real Americanism movement, the speaker then presented some plans for bringing about its success. He pointed out that the pacifist might rightly maintain that selfish interests were largely responsible for war, "but there is not a many living in Flanders field or in our national cemetery who gave his life for selfish diplomatic or financial interests. He gave that life because he had burning in his heart the true ideals and principles of patriotism. We believe he placed in our hands a sacred trust, that the institution he fought for goes on as long as there is a breath of life left in us."

He cited the charge of "militarism" leveled at the Legion's plan for adequate national defense, and pointed out that by comparative figures the U. S. army ranked seventeenth and the navy fifth amongst the world powers.

As evidence of the good faith of the veterans' fight for peace he reminded his audience of the efforts to make the Universal Draft act a law of the land. That legislation would make it possible to draft wealth and the units of industry as well as men in time of war, virtually removing all possibility of extortionate financial gain. "We declare that if that law is enacted, it will do more to bring about Universal peace than any other method."

Talks Unpreparedness

Mr. O'Connor described the deplorable inexperience and unpreparedness of U. S. world war forces that required a year to get into action and only when with the aid of foreign ships and foreign equipment on the front; the inexperience that caused fifty per cent of the needless slaughter of American youth and "the cost of 22 billions of dollars because we didn't know what to do."

In this program," he said, "we are not thinking of ourselves, but of the boy of today in the light of the experience that we saw yesterday."

As a final ingredient for the successful carrying out of the Americanism campaign, he pointed out that a successful democracy as well as such a movement must have the support of the nation's people, concluding, "If we are to continue as a representative government, its people will have to take a real interest in its affairs."

SCOUT TROOP WINS CITIZENSHIP AWARD ON 1935 PROGRAM

Local Boy Scout Troop 10 has earned an award for 1935 in the ten year program for Scouting. Bert Bunden is Scoutmaster, Herb Carter, assistant, and Joe Bagale, senior patrol leader.

The ten year award is aimed at high citizenship with an objective of one out of every four boys coming to the age of twenty-one having had four years of Scouting. This points in the award are based on enrollment of new members and retaining old members in the troop for the four year period.

A troop qualifying for the award must also have a satisfactory program of advancement for the year in outdoor activity. The entire movement is a citizenship project advanced by the Boy Scouts of America.

HOLD FINAL RITES FOR JACOB DEORNELLAS

Funeral services for Jacob DeOrnellas were conducted at the residence northeast of the city in charge of Rev. Harry Lothian. Burial was in Jacksonville cemetery.

Musical service was furnished by Mrs. Margaret Cornea and Laura Fernandez and the flowers were cared for by Mildred Burratt, Bernice Fitzgerald and Audrey DeOrnellas.

The pall bearers were C. E. Scott, F. J. Blackburn, T. P. Martin, W. C. Thompson, Tony Fernandez and J. W. Baptist.

LOCAL INSURANCE COMPANY REELECTS OFFICERS AT MEET

The annual stockholders meeting of the American Bankers Insurance company was held yesterday at the company's local offices, and was followed by the directors meeting at which time officers were elected. All officers were re-elected. C. Y. Rowe is president of the company.

Three directors whose terms expired were re-elected at the stockholders meeting. They are E. F. Strandsberg, R. G. Steacy and R. Y. Rowe.

Prominent Jacksonville Business Man Dies Suddenly Here Tuesday

Funeral services for Robert T. Cassell, one of Jacksonville's best known business men, who died suddenly yesterday, will be held Friday afternoon at two o'clock at the Reynolds Chapel. Mr. Cassell passed away at 11:10 o'clock yesterday morning at his home, 401 West Beecher avenue.

Mr. Cassell went to his cigar store on South Main street as usual, but became ill about 10 o'clock. He was taken to his home, and a physician was summoned. Death was due to heart disease.

Mr. Cassell was born in this city May 27, 1861, a son of Peter and Emily Cassell. He has spent his entire life in this community, where he established and conducted for more than half a century a most successful cigar manufacturing business. In connection with the business he also operated a retail tobacco store.

On Dec. 27, 1881, Mr. Cassell was united in marriage with Miss Martha Dalton, who preceded him in death three years ago. He is survived by one daughter, Miss Leah Cassell, at home, and one sister, Mrs. W. D. Jackson of Benton, Ill.

Mr. Cassell first entered the cigar manufacturing business in the employ of his uncle, Benjamin Pyatt. On April 1, 1882, he established his own cigar factory. For many years the Cassell cigar store was located on the west side of the square in the building now housing the Penney store. When the building was remodeled, the Cassell store was moved to 213 South Main street, where it has since been located.

Mr. Cassell became an extensive property owner in this city during his long business career.

The body was removed to the Reynolds Mortuary and will be taken to the residence this morning. The remains will be placed in Diamond Grove mausoleum.

H.S. Students To Begin Aid Program

Move To Keep Group In School, To Improve Work Of Some Pupils

Within the next few days Jacksonville High school students and teachers will embark upon an extensive program of student aid. The purpose of the activities that will make up the program will be to enable some students to remain in school who could not otherwise do so, and by providing certain medical attention, enable some students to improve their work. The furnishing of food, clothing, and books to a number of needy students will be also financed through the student aid work. It is to be emphasized that this program is of a temporary nature and is being arranged to cope with the present crisis that has arisen in student welfare.

Student aid work has been done up to this time by a committee composed of a few interested mothers of high school pupils, and a few of the faculty members. However, it has been necessary to call upon the entire student body and teaching force to co-operate in the program. The committee will continue to assist in many of the projects. The whole movement will serve as a supplement to the National Youth Administration.

While no definite announcements may be made as yet regarding the activities of the program, several projects are being discussed. Student organizations have suggested sandwich sales. One of the classes is planning a five cent dance to be held following school hours with a six-piece orchestra. A benefit movie, sponsored by the high school, in which the student aid fund will receive a portion of the proceeds is also one of the ideas being seriously considered.

One or more of these proposed activities will be definitely scheduled in the near future. The problem of student aid is one of the most pressing in the high school at the present time, and it is hoped that the new program will prove to be the solution.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETING TO BE HELD HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

All those interested in local history are reminded of the meeting Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Following the dinner in the Peacock Inn, the Historical Association will sponsor a most interesting program.

Fritz Haskell of Winchester will talk of the incidents and reasons why Scott county was cut off from Morgan county. Prof. George W. Adams, in charge of the department of history at MacMurray College, will present a biographical sketch of the first president of that institution, Dr. J. M. Jaques, known as the warrior parson. This is a personality who should be better known in Jacksonville. He had one of the most interesting careers of any man who has lived among us.

Dr. Frank P. Norbury, local weather authority, will present historical facts about the weather in this locality.

Reservations can be made at the Peacock Inn or with Mrs. Henry J. English, Miss Fidelia Abbott and Miss Margaret K. Moore of the committee of arrangements.

Farm Problems To Be Discussed At Winchester Meet

Farmers From Three Counties To Attend Session In Scott County

Winchester, Jan. 21.—Farmers from Pike, Morgan, and Scott counties will meet in the auditorium of the Winchester Community High school at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning to hear a discussion of the present economic situation in relation to the interests of farmers. The session which will continue until 3 o'clock in the afternoon will hear addresses by the following authorities from the University of Illinois: Mrs. Ruth C. Freeman, Associate in Home Accounting (Extension); P. E. Johnson, Agriculture Economist Extension Specialist; J. J. Pieper, Associate Professor in Crop Production, and R. C. Hay, Agriculture Engineering Extension Specialist.

This meeting is one of 28 which is being held at various points throughout the state during the week of January 20 to 28. The purpose of the meeting is to give farmers basic facts on the current economic situation and the outlook for the coming year. The recent holding of the United States Supreme Court relative to the Agriculture Adjustment Act promises to be one of the principle topics of discussion. Everyone interested in these problems is invited to attend.

Meeting Postponed

The meeting of the Skilled Drivers club which was to be held in the Farm Bureau office Wednesday evening has been indefinitely postponed due to the illness of Watson Maddox, president of the club, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Legion Program Of Americanism Talked At Chow Club Meet

Department Official Is Speaker Here Tuesday Evening

Ed O'Connor, Peoria, department chairman of the Illinois American Legion's program of Americanism, defined that campaign for the local Chow club last evening at the dinner meeting in the American Legion home. In terms of adequate preparation, destruction of forces advocating material change in our form of government, and a fight for the congressional adoption of the war time drafting of wealth and resources as well as manpower to take the "profit out of war."

L. K. Gilchrist, president, introduced Rev. F. J. Lawler who was in charge of the program for the evening and the introduction of the speaker. Following the dinner, the Illinois College Men's Glee Club sang a group of four numbers.

Opening his remarks, the Legion official admitted the impossibility of dealing with all the details of the Americanism program, which the organization has adopted. He desired, rather, to explain away the criticism which termed the effort an "alarmist" movement.

He emphasized that the soap box orator and the militant radical were not dangerous and were not the objects of the Americanism "push." It is the intelligent and highly trained radical groups working under cover of innocent movements that must be the target of attacks in defense of the American democracy.

"One of the most vicious and most dangerous propaganda efforts in the effort in the past three or four years to blame the ills of the depression upon supposed weaknesses in our form of government. These forces suggest revision of the Constitution."

Plans For Success

Passing from the criticism of the real Americanism movement, the speaker then presented some plans for bringing about its success. He pointed out that the pacifist might rightly maintain that selfish interests were largely responsible for war, "but there is not a many living in Flanders field or in our national cemetery who gave his life for selfish diplomatic or financial interests. He gave that life because he had burning in his heart the true ideals and principles of patriotism. We believe he placed in our hands a sacred trust that the institution he fought for goes on as long as there is a breath of life left in us."

He cited the charge of "militarism" leveled at the Legion's plea for adequate national defense, and pointed out that by comparing the figures of the U. S. army ranked seventeenth and the navy third amongst the world powers. As evidence of the good faith of the veterans' fight for peace he reminded his audience of their efforts to make the Universal Draft act a law of the land. That legislation would make it possible to draft wealth and the units of industry as well as men in time of war, virtually removing all possibility of extortionate financial gain. "We declare that if that law is enacted, it will do more to bring about Universal peace than any other method."

Talks Unpreparedness

Mr. O'Connor described the deplorable inexperience and unpreparedness of U. S. world war forces that required a year to get into action and only with the aid of foreign ships and foreign equipment on the front; the inexperience that caused fifty per cent of the needless slaughter of American youth and "the cost of 22 billions of dollars because we didn't know what to do."

"In this program," he said, "we are not thinking of ourselves, but of the boy of today in the light of the experience that we saw yesterday."

As a final ingredient for the successful carrying out of the Americanism campaign, he pointed out that a successful democracy as well as such a movement must have the support of the nation's people, concluding, "If we are to continue as a representative government, its people will have to take a real interest in its affairs."

SCOUT TROOP WINS CITIZENSHIP AWARD ON 1935 PROGRAM

Local Boy Scout Troop 10 has earned an award for 1935 in the ten year program for Scouting. Bert Burdett is Scoutmaster. Herb Carter, assistant, and Joe Bagale, scout patrol leader.

The ten year award is aimed at high citizenship with an objective of one out of every four boys coming to the age of twenty-one having had four years of Scouting. This points in the award are based on enrollment of new members, and retaining old members in the troop for the four year period.

A troop qualifying for the award must also have a satisfactory program of advancement for the year in outdoor activity. The entire movement is a citizenship project advanced by the Boy Scouts of America.

HOLD FINAL RITES FOR JACOB DEORNEILLAS

Cassell Funeral To Be Conducted Friday Afternoon

Prominent Jacksonville Business Man Dies Suddenly Here Tuesday

Funeral services for Robert T. Cassell, one of Jacksonville's best known business men, who died suddenly yesterday, will be held Friday afternoon at two o'clock, at the Reynolds Chapel. Mr. Cassell passed away at 11:10 o'clock yesterday morning at his home, 401 West Beecher avenue.

Mr. Cassell went to his clear store on South Main street as usual, but became ill about 10 o'clock. He was taken to his home, and a physician was summoned. Death was due to heart disease.

Mr. Cassell was born in this city May 27, 1861, a son of Peter and Emily Cassell. He has spent his entire life in this community, where he established and conducted for more than half a century a most successful cigar manufacturing business. In connection with the business he also operated a retail tobacco store.

On Dec. 27, 1881, Mr. Cassell was united in marriage with Miss Martha Dalton, who preceded him in death three years ago. He is survived by one daughter, Miss Leah Cassell, at home, and one sister, Mrs. W. D. Jackson of Benton, Ill.

Mr. Cassell first entered the cigar manufacturing business in the employ of his uncle, Benjamin Pyatt. On April 1, 1882, he established his own cigar factory. For many years the Cassell cigar store was located on the west side of the square in the building now housing the Penney store. When the building was remodeled, the Cassell store was moved to 213 South Main street, where it has since been located.

Mr. Cassell became an extensive property owner in this city during his long business career.

The body was removed to the Reynolds Mortuary and will be taken to the residence this morning. The remains will be placed in Diamond Grove mausoleum.

Farm Problems To Be Discussed At Winchester Meet

Farmers From Three Counties To Attend Session In Scott County

Winchester, Jan. 21.—Farmers from Pike, Morgan, and Scott counties will meet in the auditorium of the Winchester Community High school at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning to hear a discussion of the present economic situation in relation to the interests of farmers. The session which will continue until 3 o'clock in the afternoon will hear addresses by the following authorities from the University of Illinois: Mrs. Ruth C. Freeman, Associate in Home Accounting (Extension); P. E. Johnson, Agriculture Economist; Extension Specialist; J. J. Pieper, Associate Professor in Crop Production, and R. C. Hay, Agricultural Engineering Extension Specialist.

This meeting is one of 28 which is being held at various points throughout the state during the week of January 20 to 28. The purpose of the meeting is to give farmers basic facts on the current economic situation and the outlook for the coming year. The recent holding of the United States Supreme Court relative to the Agriculture Adjustment Act promises to be one of the principle topics of discussion. Everyone interested in these problems is invited to attend.
